BRITAIN AND FRANCE IN FULL AGREEMENT ON TURKISH PEACE

British Point of View Accepted By Premier Poincare;
No Danger of Division of Views Before or At the Lausanne Conference; Rumbold Goes to Lausanne.

Paris, Nov. 16.—Great Britain and France are now in complete agreement on the fundamental conditions of Turkish peace, it was definitely stated in authoritative quarters today. Premier Poincare, in a conversation with Baron Hardinge, British Ambassador to France, and through the medium of the French Embassy in London, has replied to the British memorandum, which outlined what Viscount Curzon regarded as the vital elements to a satisfactory peace treaty with the Turks.

The French Premier has accepted the British point of view, it was asserted in official circles. This action removes all danger of a Franco-British split in the Near East negotiations.

To Lausanne.—Constantinople, Nov. 16.—Sir Horace Rumbold, British High Commissioner and Ambassador in Constantinople, left yesterday for Lausanne to attend the Near East Peace Conference. The impression persists that he will not return to his post here. Friends say he took all his belongings with him.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The British have some 25,000 men around the Straits of the Dardanelles. Major de Civiex, military critic of The Matin, estimates in that newspaper today. To these, he says, may be added between 6,000 and 7,000 French and Italians. Facing towards the Dardanelles, and the Bosphorus are concentrated at least 150,000 Turks, including all the former army of the Greek army, Major de Civiex adds.

If the armistice should be broken, the writer believes the Turks would be before Samsat and Chank in twenty-four to forty-eight hours. He questions whether the British fleet would be able to prevent passage by the Turks to Europe.

DID PIRATES SEIZE SHIP?

Remarkable Story of Piratical Adventure on Gulf Is Told To-Day

Schooner With Liquor For Mexico Reported Seized;
Crew Marooned

Roving pirates are abroad threatening the peace and commerce of the land. While their methods are similar, they are not of the old buccannery type. It was a strange and almost incredible story that was related on the waterfront today, in a details of a thrilling but bloodless encounter that rivals in determination and recklessness during the escapades of the robbers of the Yangtze Kiang.

Prater off the British Columbia coast. Impossible! But such was believed to be the case last night when a band of piratical adventurers cruising in the Gulf of Georgia in a fast launch, disguised as customs officials, are reported to have overhauled and boarded a schooner named Daisy off Plumpers Pass, but on the American side, made captive under threats of violence the schooner's master and crew, landed them on a nearby island, and made off with the ship and her cargo as a prize.

The schooner Daisy was laden with a liquor cargo, and had a clearance from Vancouver for the Mexican seaboard, which accounts for the determination and unusual activity of the pirates.

Robbers Bold.—The vessel was well stocked with cases of "wet goods," and the nature of the freight made the robbers excessively bold. It was a case of the liquor carrying crew being outwitted by the sea pirate.

JAPAN INTENDS TO HOLD KWANTUNG

Will Not Meet Chinese Request for Return of Peninsula

Statement by Foreign Minister Uchida

Tokio, Nov. 16.—Foreign Minister Uchida, discussing in an interview with the Japanese press the demand of the Chinese Parliament that Japan return the Kwantung Peninsula, where Port Arthur is situated, said Japan hardly was likely to listen to a demand about a matter already settled. The Government and the people of Japan, he added, were united on the question, and would not budge an inch from the position taken by them.

INTEREST IN GREEK TRIALS GROWING

Ex-Ministers and Generals in Court in Athens

Witnesses Tell of the Asia
Minor Disaster

Athens, Nov. 16.—As the trial of former Cabinet members and generals accused of treason proceeds the interest taken by the public is becoming more intense.

General Soumialis, commander of the Northern group of forces during the disastrous Asia Minor campaign, a witness for the prosecution, dwelt upon the futility of the Greek drive toward Angora, pointing out that had the Greeks reached the Turkish Nationalist capital, the Government would have merely withdrawn to Sivas.

He attributed the responsibility for the military disaster entirely to the army chiefs. The food served to the soldiers was unpalatable. He had seen men throw it away, preferring to go hungry rather than attempt to eat it.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE PROGRESSES

Effort for Co-operative Collection for Associated Charities Progressing

The report received to-day from the Community Chest headquarters shows that scores of canvassers are working among the business and private interests of the city in the campaign to raise $86,000 for the carrying on of charitable work in the city during the winter months.

Experts in many cities where the Community Chest scheme has been adopted have declared that unavoidable reductions in administrative expense and the elimination of overlapping has been brought about by the central collecting and distributing body.

The leading organizations in the city are lending their support to the successful accomplishment of the aims and objects of the Community Chest. Rotarians and Gyros in large numbers have undertaken the work of canvassing and many representatives from other organizations have also added their forces to the work.

Some of the contributions so far received have been large individual donations. The money collected will be distributed among the various bodies affiliated with the Community Chest, which will individually look after the people on their lists for assistance.

By the end of this week it is expected that the full amount will have been collected. As the work is a charity work, the Community Chest would appreciate it if those wishing to donate would send in remittances to the Community Chest headquarters, 45 Arcade Building, or, if the donor should telephone number 277 one of the canvassers will call.

PEOPLE IN CHINA ASK PROTECTION

British, Americans and French in Danger in Honan

Appeal to the Governments;
Bandits Are Soldiers

Hankow, Province of Hupeh, China, Nov. 16.—British, American and French residents of the Province of Honan, alarmed at the increase of lawlessness and the appearance of an apparently organized campaign against foreigners, have appealed jointly to their legations for protection.

The outbreaks, which culminated recently in the kidnapping of a number of foreigners, are laid to so-called bandits, who, however, actually are uncontrollable troops.

The appeal sent by the British and American legations at Peking asks that those Governments take adequate measures to protect the lives and property of their nationals in the danger zone and to establish the responsibility of the Peking Government for the maintenance of order in the provinces.

Abandons Post.—The Rev. Mr. Larsen, head of the Lutheran mission at Wanchow, is abandoning his post on account of conditions in his district and that other missionaries will be compelled to take similar action.

The English missionary, Ledgard, who was among the first captured, escaped when his guards were killed while loitering in a village, according to dispatches which have reached mission circles here.

Peking, Nov. 16.—Measures for the immediate release of the foreign missionaries kidnapped by Chinese bandits were demanded to-day by the British, American, Italian, French and Swedish Ministers, who acted under instructions from their Governments.

The five Ministers, presenting a joint note, called in person and informed the Chinese Government of the kidnapping of the missionaries in captivity would not be tolerated by the powers.

ROBB WELCOMED IN AUSTRALIA

Canadian Minister Discussing Trade With Antipodes

Direct Shipment of Australian Wool Expected

Special to The Times
Sydney, Australia, Nov. 16.—Hon. J. A. Robb, Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, was given a warm official reception here.

He was interviewed on the subject of what would be the effect of the American tariff in stimulating direct trade between Canada and Australia. In the past, he said, much wool had been imported into Canada, undoubtedly of Australian origin, but it had lost its identity by being purchased in London or Boston. Last year Canada had imported $6,000,000 worth of wool.

"With the rate of the new American tariff in effect," said Mr. Robb, "direct shipment of Australian wool to Canada should result, because if this product now is to enter Canada free of duty if imported direct it is obvious that a great saving will be made by sending shipments from Sydney to the British Columbia Coast."

Fruit

There is a good market in Canada for Australasian fruits," continued the Canadian Minister. "A recent shipment of Australian oranges has been favorably commented upon."

When Mr. Robb was entertained at a luncheon of the Sydney Chamber of Commerce, speakers emphasized the importance of Mr. Robb's visit and their appreciation that Canada had sent a Minister to negotiate a trade arrangement.

Mr. Robb, in his address, commented on the need of migration of British surplus population to other parts of the Empire. If the United States had room for 110,000,000, he said, Australia and Canada should be able eventually to absorb quite as many.

Mr. Robb will go to Melbourne on Sunday.

CHILE HAS MORE EARTH SHOCKS

Strong Tremors; People of Santiago Alarmed.

Bodies Still Beneath Debris
in Valparaiso

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 16.—Strong earth shocks were felt at 12:25 o'clock this morning in the Copiapo and La Serena districts, where great loss of life was suffered in Saturday's quake, according to National Telegraph dispatches.

The inhabitants of Santiago were much alarmed early this morning when a slight shock was felt here, the motion apparently being vertical.

Dispatches from Copiapo report the arrival of a medical and relief party bringing a large stock of food and medicines. The medical officers of the party found a number of the injured lying in the open air in the vineyards, as the hospital had been completely ruined.

These conditions, however, are said to be surpassed by those in Valparaiso, where bodies still remain beneath the ruins, their decomposition constituting a serious menace to the public health. The inhabitants are without food and the breaking of the pipes have left the town without water.

Manitoba

Attorney-General Does Not Deny Attempt Made

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press)—Hon. W. R. Craig, Attorney-General of Manitoba, said this morning that statements of Rev. C. W. Gordon before the Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba, that an offer of $50,000 had been made to him if he would let the temperance law go, he said he had talked over certain matters privately with Dr. Gordon, but he preferred not to make any statement for publication.

Statement Stands.—Winnipeg, Nov. 16.—"The statement stands," I am not adding anything to it at present," said Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), when asked to-day to elaborate his statement yesterday to the Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba, that a bribe of $50,000 had been offered Hon. W. R. Craig, Attorney-General of Manitoba, in an effort to induce a lax administration of the provincial liquor law.

Dr. Gordon declined to give the name of the "respectable man" who he said yesterday had approached the Attorney-General. He said that his organization had any knowledge whatever of any attempt to bribe Mr. Craig were entered to-day by the Manitoba "moderation League" and the Hotelmen's Association of Manitoba.

The Springfield, Tradeston, Camphill, Cathcart and Maryhill divisions of Glasgow were all sensational turnovers from Conservative to Labor, which retained also the Gorbals division. Labor gained Tottenham North in the Conservative division. The Conservatives made gains in Leyton East and Leyton West, the central division of Portsmouth, the Harford division of Kent and the Pudsey division of Yorkshire. The Liberals gained Bradford South.

LABOR SUCCESS IN SHEFFIELD

Labor won by a big majority in the Attercliffe division of Sheffield. C. H. Wilson captured the seat from the Georgian, T. W. Casey, by a vote of 15,206 to 7,582. Another striking Labor gain was in Newcastle-on-Tyne, Central Division, where C. F. Trevelyan, one of the Labor intelligentsia, defeated the retiring Conservative, Sir George Renwick, 15,709 to 8,639. Renwick had a majority of 4,488 over the Laborite in the last election.

TWO WOMEN AGAIN BRITISH M. P.'S

Lady Astor and Mrs. Wintringham Elected

Other Women Candidates
Failed in Contests

London, Nov. 16.—The women candidates in the general election fared badly. Out of thirty-three women nominated only two, Lady Astor, in Plymouth, and Mrs. Wintringham, in Lancashire, had been returned up to 2 p. m., while more than a dozen had been recorded as defeated at that hour.

Defeated Conservative.—Among the women to be returned to the new House of Commons, Lady Astor being the first, was Mrs. Margaret Wintringham, Conservative, for the South Division of Lancashire. Mrs. Wintringham retains her seat with 11,069 votes against the Conservative candidate, Sir Alan Hutchings, with 10,726.

Lady Astor's victory was won by a closer margin than when she was first sent to Parliament to represent the Sutton Division of Plymouth.

Defeated Conservative.—Lady Cooper, running as a Conservative to succeed her husband, Sir Richard Cooper, who retired to make way for her, was defeated by the Liberal candidate, Walsall by only 525 votes out of the 23,223 votes cast for the two candidates.

In the Brantford Division of Middlesex, Mrs. Oliver Strachey, Independent, was badly beaten by Colonel Grant Morden, Conservative.

COL. A. LYNCH
WAS DEFEATED

Colonel Arthur Lynch, of Boer War memory, standing as a Laborite in Hackney Centre, was defeated, being at the bottom of the polling. Lynch was colonel of an Irish brigade on the Boer side during the South African War. He was convicted of high treason but was pardoned by King Edward.

Among the Conservative gains were a seat in Dudley, one in East Cardiff, from the Asquithians, and the Peckham division of Camberwell from the Georgians.

The Asquithians won Bethnal Green Southwest from the Conservatives, and Georgian ousted the Asquithian candidate in Shoreditch. They also gained seats in Walsall and Preston.

GAINS RECORDED BY LABORITES

Labor's Advance.—Additional Labor gains included the Brierley division of Glasgow, where a Georgian was defeated; Leicester West, Newcastle-on-Tyne West, where a Georgian was beaten by a narrow majority; Edmonton, captured from the Conservatives; the Eland and Doncaster divisions of Yorkshire, also from the Conservatives; Bradford East, from the Georgians; the Hillsborough division of Sheffield, from the Georgians; St. Rollox division of Glasgow, from the Conservatives; and Newcastle-on-Tyne East, from the Georgians. Labor also gained seats in Oldham, Ardwick division of Manchester, Batley and Rochdale.

CONSERVATIVE M. P.'S IN BRITAIN 343 ON INCOMPLETE RETURNS

With Nineteen Divisions Still to Report Laborites Have 132 Seats in New Commons, Asquith Liberals 62,
Lloyd Georgians 44, and Other Parties 15.

London, Nov. 16, 8.40 p.m.—With returns from nearly 600 constituencies out of the total of 615 in the House at this hour the Conservatives have elected 343 members of the House, or thirty-six more than a majority. The parties stood as follows: Conservatives, 343; Liberals, 62; Labor, 132; Georgians, 44; other parties, 15.

London, Nov. 16.—Premier Bonar Law had secured a majority of twelve over all the other parties in the new House of Commons when the returns for 545 of the 615 divisions had been received late this afternoon. As there are three non-voting members, including the Speaker, the number necessary for a bare majority is 207.

The Conservatives up to that time had captured 319 seats. This did not mean, however, that the Prime Minister already had obtained a so-called working majority, as the support of some of the Conservatives will be limited to many questions, but the Conservatives were looking to the remaining seventy seats to swell their numbers and to increase the lead over all opposition.

Thus far three members of Bonar Law's Government have been defeated, namely, Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen, Minister of Health; Rt. Hon. W. A. Watson, Lord Advocate, and Lieut. Colonel George F. Stanley, Under-Secretary of the Home Office. The Chief Whip, Lieut. Colonel Leslie Orme Wilson, is also among the losers. It is announced Col. Wilson will retain his office and another seat will be found for him, and it is assumed the same will be true of the others.

Labor's Gains.—A feature of the election was the number of seats won by the Labor Party, which enters the House with by far the largest number of members in the party's history. With seventy seats yet to be heard from, the Laborites have rolled up the big total of 132 members, as against the 74 they had in the last House. Their gains were mainly at the expense of the Conservatives and the Georgian Liberals.

The opponents of Labor claim that the latter's successes were due to the split in the Conservative vote. On the other hand, the Labor leader asserts that the party is coming into its own as the result of its policies of working for the poverty-stricken people and for the peace of the world.

The Laborites' rally to the polls showed thoroughness of party organization and a keenness to carry their men to victory. Their successes were most striking in the northern industrial areas, especially in Glasgow, where seat after seat fell to them.

It is noteworthy that their triumph came in the constituencies where they were regarded as most likely, and it is not expected that to-day's later returns will show similar gains as the rural districts are heard from.

Majorities by which many of the Conservative candidates were returned at last election were reduced where they were re-elected, the case of Premier Bonar Law being typical. The Premier yesterday was returned over the Liberal candidate in the South Division of Glasgow by a margin of only 2,534, whereas in the previous election his majority was 12,915.

Good Humor.—On the whole, the election was remarkable for its good humor. The old time bitterness was almost absent. Stories of babies and sucklings, who accidentally were placed on the registers, and who were taken to the polls to exercise their franchise, multiplied, while never before was there such a crop of centenarians as tolerated to the various booths yesterday.

One of these veterans was Sergeant McCallie, said to be the last survivor of the Siege of Lucknow. Another was Frank Draper, reputed to have been a friend of Charles Dickens.

Member For India.—Among the successful Labor candidates was Shapurji Saklatvala, a Parsee, born in England, who regards himself as "member for India," although elected for the working district of Battersea, South London. He intends to look after the interests of Indian education.

NOISELESS TYPEWRITERS

A radical change in the method of producing noiselessness in typewriters has been evolved by the engineering department of the Underwood Typewriter Co., whereby absolute noiselessness is obtained without in any way changing the mechanical construction of the Underwood machine.

This feature can be applied to any Underwood, and when a machine with the attachment is being operated it cannot be heard at a distance of three feet.

One of these devices is now on exhibition at the local offices of the United Typewriter Co., who control the Underwood for the Dominion of Canada.

The principle of the Maxim silencer for rifles and the muffler as applied to automobiles was the basis used by the Underwood Co. in working out this new achievement in typewriter design.

SELECT OFFICERS FOR ONE YEAR*St. John Ambulance Association Holds Annual Meeting

The officers for the Victoria branch of the St. John Ambulance Association for 1922-23 were elected at the annual meeting last evening as follows:

Chairman—A. J. Dailain, esquire of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem. Vice-Chairman—J. H. Hill, member of the provincial executive.

Hon. Secretary-Treasurer—Herbert W. Edmondson.

Executive Committee—Mrs. Chas. Gardiner, Mrs. Wallace Grime, Mrs. Edmondson, Col. Lorne Drum, Dr. A. G. Price, and Messrs. Espley, Larsen and R. Marwick.

Delegates to provincial association: Messrs. Dailain and Edmondson.

The report of the hon. secretary-treasurer, was very favorably received, but the view was generally expressed that wider publicity should be given to the work of the association.

Colonel Lorne Drum, C.B.E., senior medical officer of Col. Lorne Drum, C.B.E., S.M.O., No. 11, Dr. A. G. Price, medical health officer of Victoria, both addressed the meeting.

Extent of Training. During the past year 114 men and women have been instructed in first aid work, and 17 men and women in seven men qualifying for the home nursing certificate. Secretary Edmondson reported.

Of special interest is the co-operation of the military and educational authorities. In this connection the secretary referred to the invaluable and untiring energies of Col. Lorne Drum, C.B.E., S.M.O., No. 11, and Dr. A. G. Price, medical health officer of Victoria, both addressed the meeting.

Normal School. At the Normal School last Spring, Col. Drum instructed a class of 31 women and men in first aid, who took such an interest in the lectures that they all qualified for their certificates.

"I do not think too much stress can be laid upon the value of this class alone," said Mr. Edmondson. "Here you have young men and women being trained in the principles of the education of our youth in various parts of the Province. Many will go to districts where there may be only one doctor or perhaps none at all. The additional value to the district that they will be with a fair knowledge in first aid and home nursing cannot be estimated."

Workmen's Compensation Act. It is not generally known that under the Workmen's Compensation Act every factory, logging or construction gang must have available at least one person employed possessing the certificate of the St. John Ambulance Association in first aid and in large works must also have a properly equipped first aid station.

Many of the successful students have been able to obtain work on this account and others have taken special courses to qualify.

At the present time Col. Drum has a weekly class in first aid of over sixty students at the Normal School, and Dr. Price a women's first aid class at the Y.W.C.A. of 32 members, also 24 cadets are being instructed two evenings per week by Col. Drum with the object of again training a reserve force for the Wallace Nesbitt Junior Competition. It has been arranged that all boys who are qualified will be awarded junior certificates in first aid.

LANDLORD AND TENANT

Claim and counter claim in the cross actions of King versus Harbord were settled in the County Court before His Honor Judge Lammiman.

The claim of the plaintiff, Frank James King, was for damages to clothes and assault and alleged wrongful turning out of a rented house, while the counter claim was for damages to furniture owned by Captain M. D. Harbord.

The court considered that judgment for plaintiff in the sum of $10 on the count of ejection from the premises and $1 as the damage to clothes during the assault would meet that claim while on the counter claim the landlord was awarded judgment of $10 for damage to furniture.

The claim of the defendant, Captain M. D. Harbord, was for the landlord, Captain Harbord, and H. C. Keefer for the tenant, Frank James King.

SAYS CRITICISM OF BRIDGE WORK NOT JUSTIFIED*Viaduct Cost Figures Vindicate Engineer Mayor Marchant Finds*Difficulty of Work Little Understood; Day Labor Saves Money

After careful examination of figures showing the cost of the new Johnson Street bridge, as published in The Times last night, Mayor William Marchant declared to-day that work on the bridge project was going ahead efficiently and economically.

"I have been looking carefully into the question of bridge costs to find out whether any reasonable adverse criticism of the engineering and construction work on the bridge can fairly be made," the Mayor said. "I am bound to come to the conclusion after a full and frank examination has been made by the City Engineer, and after examining the financial details of the work, that there is very little which can be justly complained of."

"It must be fairly said that the undertaking lies between two officials, the Engineer and the City Controller. The Engineer has charge of the construction of the bridge and he is undoubtedly responsible for the solution of construction problems. The City Controller must equally assume responsibility for all matters bearing upon the financial phases of the undertaking."

"The engineer cannot be presumed to be responsible for the flotation of the bridge bonds, the price at which they were sold, or even the cost of the land that would have to be purchased for bridge approaches. It should also fairly be considered that the work of constructing a bridge is always attended by great risks, both as to life and stability and that there are certain unknown qualities in the construction about which only guesswork is possible."

Difficult Work. "For instance, the cost of the work to be done below the water may be one, two or three hundred per cent. above the estimated cost."

"I have personal knowledge of a railway bridge constructed across the River Exe in Devonshire which ruined three contractors and cost more than five times the original estimate. There is also the well-known instance of the Quebec Bridge, the original cost estimate of which was about $17,000,000 and which, according to the press cost nearly $40,000,000."

"It is, therefore, but fair to say that in estimating certain parts of a bridge undertaking that a very wide margin for possible contingencies must be allowed for by the most careful engineers."

"I recall," the Mayor went on, "that during the discussion that appeared in the papers when the bridge project was first undertaken, that it offered the opinion that the estimates of the cost were far below and in large works must also have a properly equipped first aid station. Many of the successful students have been able to obtain work on this account and others have taken special courses to qualify."

At the present time Col. The original cost estimate was exceeded in the construction of the new bridge. The probable cost of the bridge superstructure, it is stated, is $488,572.80 as against the original estimate of $425,125; the probable cost of the whole substructure is $237,596.64 as against the estimate of $170,950; of the approaches $46,460.32 as against $36,400; of engineering $40,975.74 as against $30,000. In addition, the estimate of $17,350 for contingencies will be exceeded by $7,000, it is explained.

Increased Bridge Weight. "The original estimate, so far as weights are concerned, was made by the Strauss Company (gratuitously), and was 1,907,000 pounds," says a statement prepared by engineering experts for the Mayor. "The actual weight of the bridge will be 2,600,000 pounds. This difference of 693,000 pounds accounts for the difference in the estimated and actual costs of the bridge."

The statement says, "A good proportion of this excess weight was added by Council instructions, through the addition of a railway bridge on the highway portion of the bridge. It being considered at that time that the price per pound, namely 14.6 cents allowed was unnecessarily high, since tenders received locally have put in a claim for damages having been paid by the City Engineer. The estimate for plate girder spans was made by the City Engineer at 1,903,000 pounds, and its actual weight is 1,909,195 pounds."

Saved Money. Large sums of money were saved in the installation of the bridge superstructure by allowing the City Engineer to do the work by day labor, the statement says. "The substructure, it says, 'is being carried out in two portions, by day labor. Tenders were called only for the first portion, now built. The lowest schedule tender received was for $214,174. The work was carried out by day labor for $207,897 and the actual cost to the city, if the contract had been let to the lowest tenderer, would have been $237,432, more quantities of material being used than in the original schedule. There is also no doubt that the contractor would have been entitled to a loss of $18,000, owing to delay and it is considered that he would have been entitled to at least $5,000. It can be reasonably estimated that day labor saved at least $35,000."

Struck "Hard Pan." "If the City Engineer had been really contracting for the work he would have been paid $189,872 and had to carry a loss of $18,000," the statement continues. "As a point of interest nearly $17,000 of this was lost on the rest pier where an unexpected layer of a species of hard pan, not shown by test borings, was discovered. This section of the work would have been carried out differently if it had been known to exist and the money lost probably saved, and even here the city's cost for the rest pier by day labor was $52,527 against the lowest contract price of $62,112. The counterweight 'rumor' pier, the only one on which an accident occurred, cost $6,953 against an estimate of $4,315 and lowest contract price of $6,335."

Wages paid were fixed by the City Council to be union rates and a contractor would have paid the same. "The reason that certain men received at times high rates of pay was that certain work was carried out by shifts, continuously to completion, these men being the 'king pined' around which the others revolved, as any falling down of the men in this portion delayed the work and endangered at times both the rest of the men and the work in hand. It has found over and over again that low rates of pay do not necessarily mean cheap work."

The hull of the derrick screw built for this work was constructed by day labor at a cost of $6,950 against the lowest contract price of $8,000 offered.

Children need Dominion Rubbers

right through the winter

DOMINION Rubbers mean health protection. They mean freedom from colds, sore throats and tonsillitis, caused by getting the feet wet or sitting all day in damp shoes.

Don't limit the children to a single pair of rubbers each.

You'll find it a real economy to have a pair of rubbers for each pair of shoes, because both shoes and rubbers will wear longer.

Try this plan yourself. DOMINION Rubbers come in styles, shapes and sizes to fit every shoe for men, women and children.

Don't ask for "a pair of rubbers"—insist on getting DOMINION rubbers, the perfect fitting, comfortable, long-wearing rubbers.

Speaks of Canada and Near East Situation

Carleton Place, Ont., Nov. 15.—Outside of a very few, the people of Great Britain expect Canada, through her Parliament, to have the say as to what attitude this country is to assume in matters that affect her interests and her well-being, declared Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Defence, speaking here on the Near Eastern situation as it affected Canada.

It was the first time in the history of Canada that this country had been asked to participate in a war in which Great Britain might be involved, he said. In the other wars the offer had been made by Canada when the need was seen to exist. The Canadian people could be loyal to British tradition and the British crown and they say "No," to propositions made by the men who happened to be in power.

Confirmed.

The attitude of the Canadian Government, he said, in asking for further information before committing the people of Canada to another war was confirmed absolutely by the attitude of the new British Prime Minister, Mr. Bonar Law.

Mr. Graham addressed a largely attended meeting here in support of the candidature of David Findlay, who is Liberal candidate in the Lanark by-election.

The present Government, Mr. Graham said, had been criticized for not immediately saying "Yes" to a proposition made to it through Winston Churchill concerning the situation in the Near East. "I am not giving away people's secrets," Mr. Graham stated, "because the new Conservative Prime Minister in Britain has stated all these things publicly. Bonar Law himself a member of that Government, told us in a recent speech that he was not a party to that proposition and believed it was all wrong."

Discussion in Parliament.

The question of Empire relationship was one which surely would be discussed at the coming session of Parliament, Mr. Graham stated. The people of Canada, with their Parliament and their Government, formed a strong enough combination to decide what was best for this part of the Empire, and what strengthened Canada would strengthen the Empire.

"It is in the best interests of the Empire that the Dominions be allowed to conduct their own affairs," he said, "and this the leading men of Great Britain recommend be done to the fullest extent."

Early Treatment
OF CANCER URGED

Surgeons Point Out Unwisdom
of Any Delay

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Prof. Francis Carter Wood, Director of Cancer Research at Columbia University and Director of the Radium therapeutic department of St. Luke's Hospital, New York, in an interview here said the surgeon's knife was the only cure for cancer. "The only cure we know is to cut the cancer out," he said. "To do that, we must catch the disease before it goes too far."

He said that in the greater number of cases of cancer, the patient keeps it secret until too late. "I have no hesitation in telling you," said Prof. Wood, "that 2,000 Canadians die unnecessarily from cancer every year."

The extent of cancer in the United States was indicated by Prof. Wood, who said that of women between the years of forty-five and sixty-five, one in eight died from the disease, and of men of the same age, the proportion was one in thirteen.

Dr. C. J. Hastings, Medical Officer of Health of Toronto, in a bulletin issued yesterday from the local department of health, said:

"Cancer is curable. Cancer is a local condition at first and as such is positively curable. But, on the other hand, if neglected, it means death, probably preceded by months of suffering."

MANSLAUGHTER
VERDICT GIVEN

Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—A verdict of guilty of manslaughter was returned by the jury yesterday in the case of Ernest E. McTavish, eighteen-year-old Ashern youth, who was charged with the murder of Ernest Billarde, a French-Canadian farmer of that district on July 15 last. He was remanded for sentence.

CANADA'S TRADE SHOWS INCREASE

Seven Months Ended With
October $68,000,000
Higher Than 1921

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—Canada's total trade during October showed an increase of approximately $30,000,000 over the total for October, 1921, according to a summary issued by the Department of Customs and Excise. For the seven months ended October 31 this year the total was $68,000,000 higher than during the corresponding seven months of last year. Exports of domestic produce were chiefly responsible for the increase.

Imports for consumption during the month of October this year were valued at $66,875,201 against $59,518,248 in October last year, an increase of over $7,000,000. For the seven-month period, however, the imports were lower by nearly $8,000,000 than during the previous year, the total for the seven months ended October 31, 1922, being $430,790,937 against $438,335,496 in the seven months ended October 31, 1921.

Merchandise, domestic, exported during October last was valued at $102,815,347, against $79,941,482 in October, 1921, an increase of nearly $23,000,000. Exports for the seven months just ended were valued at $480,908,643, against $415,515,513 in the same period of last year, an increase of over $65,000,000. Foreign produce exported from Canada showed a slight decrease both during the month and for the seven-month period, the total for October being $1,229,705, against $1,314,471, and for the seven months of 1922, $8,455,554 against $8,532,814 in the same period of 1921.

COAL MINERS IN ALBERTA MAY GO ON STRIKE

Calgary, Nov. 15.—More than eighty miners may strike within the next twenty-four hours at the Severn Coal Company's mines at Midlandville, through alleged inability of the coal company to pay the miners their full wages, amounting to approximately $9,000, according to word received here by locals of District No. 18, United Mine Workers of America. At present the company owes the miners more than two weeks' wages. If the company does not pay the wages in full the miners say they will picket the mine and call out the pummen on strike with them.

FOR HOW LONG?

Great Britain has elected a Tory Government with a working majority over all other parties in the House of Commons. The Labor Party will dominate the Opposition with a clear majority over the two Liberal wings and the free lance element combined. Professed followers of Mr. Lloyd George will be numerically inferior to those who have remained under the Asquithian banner. Thus will the two political extremes in British public life now glare at each other across the floor of the House and dominate its business for a time.

Not even the most sanguine supporter of Mr. Bonar Law would predict a long life for the new Government. Nobody will even seriously suggest that the complexion of the next Parliament is an implication that the people of Britain want to be governed by a stand-pat and obviously reactionary Cabinet. The only reliable sign of the times is the growth of the Labor Party. Its success at the polls represents the fruit of a carefully planned educational campaign in which the intelligent voter has been able to divorce the fulminations of those who take most of their political instructions from Moscow from the advocacy of progress on constitutional lines. And the influence of the Communist element can be gauged by the polling in the Shettleston division of Glasgow—advertised in recent months as one of the "reddest" constituencies in Britain—where its exponent obtained only 470 votes out of a total of nearly 25,000.

How the various Opposition elements will meet the Government forces cannot be judged at this stage. What course of action Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Asquith will take presents an even more intricate conundrum. Quite a number of the Asquithian Liberals from the Northern constituencies will undoubtedly be found in the Labor column in all divisions involving industrial questions. But if the Party supporting Mr. Lloyd George remains in the minority, and cannot look forward to defections from either reactionary or radical wings, Labor may incline to a condescending attitude. On the other hand both minority leaders are opposed to Labor's platform and unless the strength of the Government should hasten a united Opposition in the public interest relations will probably remain strained for some time.

While these are purely party speculations it should also be remembered that stable government in 1922 must take a different form from that to which the country became accustomed before the war. It is true that the electorate has grown weary of government by fits and starts. But does it not seem to have overlooked the fact that rapidly changing conditions have demanded a flexibility of administration that would have thrown the country into an uproar ten years ago? Events, and not men, are calling the tune to which governments are compelled to dance in these days. Each week produces its own problems for which there is no catalogued formula. All of which obtrudes the question as to whether Mr. Bonar Law can adapt himself to these new and changing conditions.

The new Prime Minister is a "safe" man. His Government has been elected because the average voter recognizes that compromise government must come to an end. The Conservative Party offered the solution for the moment. Only by giving the new Prime Minister an adequate majority could group administration be avoided. But his test is yet to come. He may desire, and consider the country requires tranquility and a holiday from what he has chosen to call "harassing legislation," but he cannot control events. Unless he succeeds in improvisation as circumstances may dictate from time to time his period in power will be a short one.

In the main the result of the election places the stand-patters in control of things. Their majority is none too large. But the country is not reactionary. It has not forgotten the "Brewers' Bouquet," the Education Act, and it will not have Protection. It will discover a way to re-enthroning the forces of progress before many months have passed.

BOTH AGREED.

Advices from Paris indicate that the French Premier has accepted the British point of view in respect of what Marquis Curzon regards as the vital elements to a satisfactory peace treaty with the Turks. With this much assured there would appear to be every prospect of Anglo-French harmony at Lausanne and a united Allied front in consequence.

By reaching an understanding in advance the two principal Allies will be in a position to save a good deal of time when the participating envoys meet next week. Nothing would please the Angora Government better than to split the Entente at Lausanne. France cannot afford such a development any more than Nationalist Turkey. The former has undoubtedly realized that by this time.

AN IMPORTANT ITEM.

Up to October 1 of this year the cost of secret service operations in connection with the administration of the Liquor Control Act had reached the total of $105,000. We are not challenging the amount or offering any suggestion as to whether it has been money well spent or otherwise; but it is permissible to point out that if it cost this much to keep an eye upon the illegitimate traders in one form or another, it would cost about five times the amount to "superintend" the open sale and consumption of beer and light wines. In the absence of no general demand for the new department the inference is unusually obvious.

AN INTERESTING DEFEAT.

Although Mr. Bonar Law wired to Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen during the election campaign in the Taunton division to the effect that he had been elevated to the Ministry of Health because he had earned promotion, the electors of the constituency in question gave their opinion of the transfer by defeating the chief ministerial opponent to the removal of the British embargo against Canadian cattle.

It will be recalled that when Sir Arthur succeeded Lord Lee in the agricultural portfolio he was defeated in the Dudley by-election on the sole issue of the embargo. His Laborite opponent capitalized the sentiment which had been created by Hon. Manning Doherty during a series of public meetings in the Old Country and the verdict was a definite one. The Minister sought another constituency and finally received endorsement at the hands of the Taunton electorate—a good old Tory and agricultural stronghold.

Yesterday's defeat rather spoils the new Prime Minister's suggestion that his colleague progressed in his elevation to the Ministry of Health. Everybody knows, of course, that Labor has a strong case against the Department, which has sanctioned the return of much of the land that was cultivated during the war to sporting preserves. Sooner or later the issue will be fought out and it goes without saying that Sir Arthur has not displayed sufficient sagacity to warrant Mr. Bonar Law leaving such an important Department under his charge. That is undoubtedly the reason why the defeated minister was "elevated."

FOOLING THEMSELVES.

Gatherings of the Third Internationale and its feasts upon reports that strides towards world revolution have been made during the last few months may furnish consolation to the Moscow gentry; but Zinovieff's rosy prophesies for the future will be read with a smile by all those outside the Soviet domain.

We are informed by the chairman of the executive committee of the Third Internationale that the way to world revolution lies through Germany. He predicts that the next few months will bring "surprising happenings" in that country. But he seems to forget that the debtor nation's economic quandary will not be allowed to produce a crop of circumstances which might be exploited by the Moscow authorities. Germany is the sick man of Central Europe in more ways than one. The mark has almost dropped out of sight and there are already rumblings of monarchist and other plots to overthrow the Government. At the same time the Allied nations are acting in the role of nurse for Germany. They are endeavoring to revive the patient by the process which war's usage has prescribed throughout the centuries. When that finally fails it will be the signal for the employment of less orthodox means—even to the provision of financial assistance by which the debtor may pay her creditors. But Russia will not be allowed to interfere. If "surprising happenings" should take place it will not be Bolshevism.

On the other hand it is amusing to learn of Zinovieff's confession of Communism's failure in Great Britain. What else could he expect? The British workingman is capable of doing his own thinking and he does it and will continue to do it. That through the fruition of Soviet produces barren ground for propaganda.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The French Air Ministry announces the completion of an aeroplane that mounts one of the famous 75's. Thus do the nations progress along the path that leads to universal peace!

Mr. Lloyd George said the other day that reaction and revolution would sooner or later come into close touch. When he surveys the complexion of the next House of Commons he may be courageous enough to say "I told you so."

Labor's defeat in the Widnes division is a serious blow to the Party. Mr. Arthur Henderson always has been a steady influence; but it is strange that he should lose his seat and that other moderates such as Thomas Clynnes should have had such close shaves. Their previous popularity was apparently lost in the effect which their advocacy of the capital levy had upon their constituents.

Although Mr. Churchill conducted his election campaign in Dundee under depressing handicaps it can be taken for granted that his defeat had little or nothing to do with his physical condition or the record of the Government of which he was a member. When the former Colonial Secretary informed the world at large that Labor was not fit to govern he asked for more trouble than he bargained for. Dundee administered the blow and the Party will now consider that it has evened things up fairly well. It was a courageous statement to make; it typified the man's daring—if any were required in addition to that displayed by his somewhat militant policy in Europe—but it was both clumsy and poor politics.

ILLUSTRATES ARGUMENT FROM COAST CITIESCase Against Branch Banking Presented in ChicagoComparisons Made With American Pacific Cities

The banking situation in relation to branch banks has been the subject of very considerable controversy in the United States and Eastern Canada. Naturally there is much to be said critical with regard to a policy of a few large banks, having note issuing power, with many branches scattered through the country, as adopted in Scotland and Canada. The case in Vancouver and Victoria has been quoted to the Chicago and Cook County Bankers Association as an illustration of Canadian Pacific cities held back in this system, in an address by Vernon R. Loucks, of the Chicago bar.

Mr. Loucks entitled his address "An Argument for the 'Branch Banks' and 'The Times' is now in receipt of a copy through the courtesy of the Chicago and Cook County Bankers' Association, giving the argument in full.

The Canadian System.
The section of his address dealing with this province is in answer to these that "the branch banking system takes away the benefit of having a bank under local control to build up local industries." In this connection he says: "The 17 banks of Canada have their head offices in seven cities: Montreal, five; Hamilton, Winnipeg, Quebec, Weyburn, and Halifax each one. All of the other hundreds of banks and branches of Canada have no local banks. There is no local bank west of Winnipeg. Think of cities such as Vancouver and Victoria, the largest Canadian cities on the Pacific coast. Actual population of Vancouver is 250,000, and the population of Seattle in forty years has grown from 2,500 to more than 215,000. Portland in the same period, has grown from 17,000 to 258,000. All these cities have substantially the same natural advantages. There may be other reasons for the much larger growth of Portland and Seattle, but undoubtedly by one vital factor in their greater development is that they have a number of strong national and state banks. They have a corps of real financial leaders, independent, resourceful and devoted to the industrial progress of their cities. Does any one believe that Portland and Seattle would to-day be several times larger than Vancouver or Victoria if they had been dependent for their banking facilities upon branches of New York or Chicago banks?"

Local Versus National.
Further in the same part of his argument Mr. Loucks says: "The bank is made up of men who are intimately connected with the business life and personnel of the immediate neighborhood. They form their judgments from first-hand information and primary evidence. The members of the board of directors and officers of a large bank, miles away, are interested in their own respective enterprises. Their natural interest causes them to put the funds under their control into channels that either directly or indirectly promote their associated business. Even where this is perfectly legitimate, their natural preference is to place their money with men whom they know personally rather than to loan to those about whom they know nothing but from hearsay. Human interest prompts the local board of directors to take care of the local industries. They are in daily contact with the various borrowers and thorough knowledge of the needs of the community make them more ready to make loans. They are not in a position to exercise judgment. They can afford to take chances in the matter of new enterprises that a long distance board of directors would not be justified in taking, because the latter does not have first-hand information as to the borrower, cannot fully appraise the situation or appreciate the chances of success of the enterprise."

UNEARTH GREEK
TOWN IN ITALY

Rome, Nov. 16.—Italy's leading archaeologists are deeply interested in a discovery which promises to throw light on early Italo-Greek history.

As the result of casual digging by some youths, what is believed to be the old Greek town of Siroon has been revealed near Sorrento and not far from Naples. Siroon was believed to have been the sanctuary of the Sirens (the sea nymphs who lured mariners to destruction by their singing) and as such is mentioned by Virgil (Aeneid, book 5, verse 84). Strabo (the Roman geographer, who lived at the same time), Homer and Hesiod, a contemporary of Homer.

So far one of the city gates has been unearthed. They are of enormous blocks of lava (volcanic stone) carefully smoothed and fitted. A party wall has also been exposed.

EXTRAVAGANCE

Witness: "I don't know; he is a most extravagant man. He is getting married a third time."

WHITE COLLAR JOBS
EXCEPT OFFICE BOY
ARE PAYING LESS

New York, Nov. 16.—The salaries of "white collar" workers are 10 to 20 per cent. less now than they were in September, 1921, and are steadily dropping, according to the monthly report issued by the American Employment Exchange. Accountants, bookkeepers, clerks and stenographers have been accepting positions this month at pay that shows a marked decrease even from August.

The only position that has held its own in pay and even advanced a little is that of office-boy or office girl. The average weekly wage of office boys for July, August and September of this year was $13.33 as compared with $11.75 for the corresponding period of 1921. The average wage of the office girl, classified as a clerk, was $18.75 and $16 respectively for the two periods.

The present average weekly salary for female stenographers is $20, the report shows. This is a drop of more than 10 per cent. as compared with last year or even with the preceding two months of 1922. While July statistics showed the male stenographer accepted 15 per cent. less pay than last year, September shows him to be gaining his high mark of 1921. The report says that the demand for male stenographers, however, is negligible as compared with that for girls.

The man clerk's pay is more than 10 per cent. below last season, with no sign of it increasing. The average for the last three months is $22 weekly, as compared with $26 in 1921. The bookkeeper also is receiving 10 per cent. less pay, and the retrogression of his salary is markedly steady. July showed him averaging $23 a week, August $26, while September showed him accepting $25.82, as compared with last fall's average of $28.42.

LOAN COLLECTION FROM NATIONAL GALLERY HERE

That section of the public which derides the absence of a Canadian art and artists will find themselves pleasantly disillusioned by a visit to the Island Arts and Crafts Club, where the long anticipated loan collection from the National Gallery is now on exhibition. The collection comprises thirteen paintings by Canadian, British, French and Dutch artists, all sharing a common standard of flawless technique and high artistic values.

The collection was received yesterday and will be open to the public for the first time to-morrow afternoon from 2 until 6 p.m. at the club rooms, 292 Union Bank Building. It will remain in this city for three months and it is hoped that during that time every man, woman and child will seize this all-too-rare opportunity to see these examples of the best in modern art.

Mr. Thomas Deasy, a former fire chief of Victoria, but now located in Prince Rupert, was a visitor in the city yesterday, on his way to Seattle.

Major Selden Humphreys and Mr. Stevenson, of Victoria, have been visiting in Vancouver for a few days, the guests of Mrs. W. F. Brougham, Nicola Street.

ROY MITCHELL

The Women's Canadian Club will have the opportunity of hearing a brilliant speaker on Tuesday afternoon next at the Empress Hotel, when Roy Mitchell, Director of Plays at Hart House, Toronto University, will give an address on "The Drama in Relation to Life." Mr. Mitchell is a Toronto University man of brilliant attainments and was for eight years director of the Control Press Agency in Toronto, during which time he was greatly interested in the theatre, especially in Shakespearean productions. For some years he was associated with the new dramatic movement of the "Little Theatre" of New York, and was technical director of the famous "Greenwich Village Theatre."

His address on Tuesday should be of absorbing interest and promises to be one of the most attractive of the season's series.

MARGARET JENKINS P.T.A. HELD SUCCESSFUL SALE

The Margaret Jenkins School was the scene of a successful sale of work yesterday afternoon. The affair was opened by Mrs. Gordon Smith and the various stalls were covered by these ladies: Doll stall by Mrs. R. T. Freeman and Mrs. Gibson; vegetable stall by Mrs. Holmes; plain work by Mrs. Denny, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Waugh; home cooking by Mrs. Tinker, Mrs. Hargrave, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Hyslop; candy by Mrs. Haverford and the senior girls of the school; girls' stall by the senior girls of the school; fancy work stall, Mrs. Gatenby, Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Coxworthy; afternoon tea, Mrs. Hartley and Mrs. Clark; ice cream, Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Watson; fish pond, Mrs. Murdoch and Mrs. Armstrong; palmistry, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Lawson. A most acceptable gift in the form of a box of cards with cord attached arrived at the sale from P. C. Thompson, a disabled soldier of Shewan Lake.

Mrs. Baylis was the energetic convenor and it was largely due to her efforts that the sum of $200 was realized for the P.T.A. funds.

By HELEN KENDALL

AN IVIED LATTICE

When winter comes, and the green has died out of the landscape outside, it is a delight to have a panel of living green within doors, either in the sunroom or between two windows in the living room. English ivy is an accommodating visitor, and will climb cheerfully up any lattice spread for it, whether in sun or shade.

In a sunroom seen recently, the ivy was trained over a lattice of soft green over a creamy wall. Behind two arched windows, a handsome pottery tub, decorated in deep blue and yellow, was filled with the earth in which the ivy had been growing outside. Three or four strong roots were selected and planted in this rich earth. Young leaves had already formed, and the ivy went on growing as if it had never been moved. The effect of a veritable garden was secured in the sunroom, where the vine kept on growing throughout the winter.

Ivy can be trained over a living room wall with equal success. A narrow flower box placed on the floor or on a shelf, and a lattice of some sort fastened to the wall will produce a panel of beauty when the glossy green leaves have wound their leisurely and picturesque way up the trellis.

Another attractive background for English ivy within doors is a latticed rose standard rising from the pot in which the ivy is planted. This standard trellis is about three feet high and widens at the top. It can be moved from room to room, or from window to window.

In some apartments the view from the windows is unattractive, looking either on a court or across to the rear of other buildings. A trellis of English ivy growing across the pane will entirely shut out the ugliness across the way and give an appearance of summer green in addition.

RETAINS HER SEAT

LADY ASTOR

by a reduced majority was re-elected as Conservative candidate for the Sutton riding of Plymouth yesterday, thus retaining her seat in the House of Commons. Mrs. Wintringham, who was the Liberal candidate for Louth, was also re-elected, retaining her seat.

ST. COLUMBA BAZAAR UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS

The Autumn bazaar and tea given by the Ladies Aid Society of St. Columba's Presbyterian Church, Oak Bay, yesterday afternoon, was an unqualified success, despite the downpour of rain. It was opened by Rev. J. H. White, the newly installed pastor, with an appropriate little speech, in which he highly commended the ladies of the society and thanked them for their loyal support. A vote of thanks to Mr. White was proposed by the president, Mrs. Johnson, and seconded by Mrs. Baylis, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Jacklin, and Mrs. Baylis and Mrs. Morley to act on the purchasing committee for the next two months. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Edmonds, 1025 Redfern Street, on November 29.

JOINT CHRISTMAS TREE.

A resolution supporting Major Burde's eight-hour day bill was adopted by the executive of the Grand Army of United Veterans last evening in the club rooms on Langley Street. The G. A. U. V. executive also decided to ask the various ex-service organizations to combine for the holding of one Christmas tree this year.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Mrs. W. O. Story presided at the monthly meeting of the Catholic Women's League yesterday afternoon when committees were appointed for a card party and dance and also for the Christmas tree arrangements. The December meeting will take the form of a donation party when donations of Christmas cheer will be welcomed to the hampers to be distributed through the Ladies Aid. Mrs. Hallam reported the decoration of the graves of Catholic soldiers in Ross Bay Cemetery on Armistice Day. An invitation was received from the Local Council of Women to a meeting to be held in the medical library on November 23 at 8 p. m. when social questions will be discussed.

At the close of the session tea was served.

INSTALLMENT NUMBER 93

BY A. S. M. HUTCHINSON

Copyrighted—Published by arrangement with British & Colonial Press, Ltd.

"Process of time he began to come back. He'd struck a light down there, as you might say, and you could see the dim, mysterious glimmer of it, moving about, imperceptibly coming up the side. Now brighter, now fainter; now here, now there. Humm, I can tell you. But he was coming up. He was climbing up out of that place where he had been. What would he remember?—Yes, and what was he coming up to?"

"What was he coming up to? That was what began to worry me. The divorce suit of his wife was climbing up its place in the list. He was climbing up out of the place where he had been and this case was climbing up towards hearing. Do you get me? Do you get my trouble? Soon as his head emerged up out of the pit, was he going to be bludgeoned down into it again by going through in the Divorce Court precisely that which had bludgeoned him down at the inquest? Was I going to get the case held up so as to keep him for that? Or what was I going to do? I hadn't been instructed to prepare his defence. At Brighton, when I'd suggested it, he'd told me, politely, to go to hell. I hadn't been instructed; no one had been instructed. And there was no defence to prepare. There was only his bare word, only his flat denial—denial flat, unprofitable, and totally unsupported. The only person who could support it was the girl, and she was dead; she was much worse than dead; she had died in atrocious circumstances, his part in which had earned him the severe censure of the coroner's jury. His defence couldn't have been worse. He'd tied himself in damning knots ever since he'd first set eyes on the girl, and all he could bring to the defence was simply to say, 'It wasn't so.' His defence was as bad as if he were to stand up before the Divorce Court and say, 'Before she died the girl wrote and signed a statement exonerating me and fixing the paternity on so-and-so. He's dead, too, that so-and-so, and as for her signed statement, I'm sorry to say I destroyed it, forgetting I should need it in this suit. I was worried about something else at the time, and I quite forgot the matter.'"

"I don't say his defence would be quite so crudely insulting to the intelligence of the court as that; but I say the whole unsupported twisting and turning and writhing and wriggling of it was not far short of it."

"Well, that was how I figured it out to myself in those days, as the case came along; and I said to myself: 'Was I going to put in affidavits for a stay of hearing for the pleasure of seeing him nursed back to life to go through that agony and ordeal of the inquest again and come out with the same result as if he hadn't been there at all? And I decided—no; no, thanks; not me. It was too much like patching up a dying man in a civilized country for the pleasure of hanging him, or like fattening up a starving man in a cannibal country for the satisfaction of eating him.'"

"And I had this. In further support of my position I had this. My friend, the Divorce Court is a cynical institution. If a respondent and a co-respondent have been in places and in circumstances where they might have incriminated themselves, the Divorce Court cynically assumes that, being human, they would have incriminated themselves. But, it says to the petitioner, 'I want proof, definite and satisfactory proof of those places and of those circumstances. That's what I want. That's what you've got to give me.'"

"Very well. Listen to me attentively. Lend me your ears. The onus of that proof rests on the petitioner. Because a case is unproved, it doesn't follow that the petitioner's plea is therefore going to be granted. No. The Divorce Court may be cynical, but it's a stickler for proof. The Divorce Court says to the petitioner, 'It's up to you. Prove it. Never mind what the other side isn't here to deny. What you've got to do is to satisfy me, to prove to me that these places and these circumstances were so. Go ahead. Satisfy me—if you can.'"

"So I said to myself: now the places and the circumstances of this petition unquestionably were so. All the Sabres in the world couldn't deny that. Let his wife go ahead and prove them to the satisfaction of the Court, if she can; if she can't; good; no harm done that he wasn't there to be bludgeoned anew. If she can satisfy the court, well, I say to you, my friend, as I said then to myself and I say it deliberately: if she can satisfy the court—good again, better, excellent. He's free; he's free from a bond that was the death of both of them."

"Right. The hearing came on and his wife did satisfy the Court. She got her decree. He's free. . . . That's that."

GAELIC SOCIETY.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by members and their friends of the Gaelic Society last evening in the Orange Hall, Courtney Street. President Norman P. McDonald occupied the chair. The social was opened with a bagpipe selection by Pipe-Major D. Cameron.

A splendid programme was given when the following took part: Mrs. W. A. Jameson, Capt. R. Morrison, Mr. Lock, Mr. Guy, vocalists; Miss L. Gibson, recitations; Mr. D. Dobson, violin selections; Miss N. Ferguson, word dance, and Mr. Heister's banjo trio. Refreshments were served during the evening under the convener-ship of Mrs. Norman P. McDonald, ably assisted by members of the society. Afterwards dancing was indulged in, the music for which was supplied by Mrs. Ridgard and Pipe-Major D. Cameron.

Answers in to-morrow's installment of H. G. Wells' "Outline of History."

having homes there and handing on the secrets of seafaring to their sons.

The eighth class (independent property owners) have distinguished themselves by a peculiar class, continually increased by the accession of the heirs and dependents, the widows and retired members of the wealthy and powerful, and continually diminished by the deaths or speculative losses of these people and the dispersal of their properties. The priests and priestesses, too, so far as all this world west of India went, were not a very reproductive class; many priestesses were celibate, and that class, too, may also be counted as a reproductive class. Nor are servants, as a rule, reproductive. They live in the households of other people; they do not have households and rear large families of their own.

The Reilly-Vital Classes.

This leaves us as the really vital classes of the ancient civilized community:

(a) The royal and aristocratic class, officials, military officers and the like;

(b) The mercantile class;

(c) The town artisans;

(d) The cultivators of the soil; and

(e) The herdsmen.

Each of these classes reared its own children in its own fashion, and so naturally kept itself more or less continuously distinct from the others. General education was not organized in those ancient states; education was mainly a household matter (as it is still in many parts of India to-day), and so it was natural and necessary for the sons to follow in the footsteps of their father and to marry women accustomed to their own sort of household.

Except during times of great political disturbance, therefore, there would be a natural and continuous separation of classes; which would not, however, prevent exceptional individuals from intermarrying or passing from one class to another. Poor aristocrats would marry rich members of the mercantile class, ambitious herdsmen, artisans or sailors would become rich merchants. So far as one can gather, that was the general state of affairs in both Egypt and Babylonia.

The idea was formerly entertained that in Egypt there was a fifty of classes, but this appears to be a misconception due to a misreading of Herodotus. The only exclusive class in Egypt which did not intermarry was, as in England to-day, the semi-divine royal family.

At various points in the social system there were probably developments of exclusiveness, an actual barring out of interlopers. Artisans of particular crafts possessing secrets, for example, have among all races and in all ages, tended to develop guild organizations restricting the practice of their craft and the marriage of members outside their guild. Conquering peoples have also, and especially when there were marked physical differences of race been disposed to keep themselves aloof from the conquered peoples, and have developed an aristocratic exclusiveness.

Such organizations or restriction upon free intercourse have come and gone in great variety in the history of all long-standing civilizations. The natural boundaries of function were always there, but sometimes they have been drawn sharply and laid stress upon, and sometimes they have been made little of.

Patrician and Plebeian.

There has been a general tendency among the Aryan peoples to distinguish noble (patrician) from common (plebeian) families; the traces of it are evident throughout the literature and life of Europe to-day, and it has received a picturesque enforcement in the "science" of heraldry. This tradition is still active even in democratic America.

Germany, the most methodical of European countries, had in the middle of the last century a very clear conception of the fifty of such distinctions. Below the princes (who themselves constituted an exclusive class which did not marry beneath itself) there were the:

(a) Knights, the military and official caste, with hereditary coats-of-arms;

(b) and (c) The Burgerstand, the merchants, shipping people, and artisans; and

(d) The Bauernstand, the cultivating serfs or peasants.

Medieval Germany went as far as any of the western heirs of the first great civilizations toward a fixation of classes. The idea is far less congenial both to the English-speaking people and to the French and Italians who, by a sort of instinct, favor a free movement from class to class.

Such exclusive ideas began first among, and were promoted chiefly by, the upper classes, but it is a natural response and a natural Nemesis to such ideas that the masses of the excluded, should presently range themselves in antagonism to their superiors.

It was in Germany, as we shall see in the concluding chapters of this story, that the conception of a natural and necessary conflict, "the class war," between the miscellaneous multitudes of the disinherited ("the class-conscious proletariat" of the Marxist) and the rulers and merchants first arose. It was an idea more acceptable to the German mind than to the British or French.

But before we come to that conflict, we must traverse a long history of many centuries.

Promoters Must Show

Money Backing, House

Told

When the Esling resolution, asking for a return of correspondence between the Government and Vickers, Ltd., relative to the establishment of an iron and steel industry in British Columbia, came up in the Legislature, Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, explained that it would not be in the interests of the Province to table this correspondence.

Esling steel interests were antagonistic to the proposed venture in this Province, he said, and they would be only too glad to learn of the status of the situation here.

Mr. Sloan said that the Government had taken the stand that no assistance would be given any concern seeking to establish such an industry unless it were shown that the necessary money was at sight.

The offering for sale of stock would not be countenanced, he said, and any prospective plant to be established in this Province must be of a bona fide commercial nature and not speculative.

W. J. Bowser, K.C., leader of the Opposition, spoke disparagingly of the statements of the Minister of Mines, claiming that the Legislature was entitled to know of all negotiations the Government was carrying on in regard to the development of industry in this Province.

He wondered why the Government had accepted $50 from the Coast Steel Ltd. for the registration of its incorporation papers, when the regular fee on the capitalization of $15,000,000 was $3,000. In addition to this concession, he said, the Government had spent the sum of $10,000 to investigate the iron-ore deposits of the Province. This work merely saved the company the expense of doing that work itself.

Hon. T. D. Pattullo adjourned the debate.

CHAMPAGNE

PRICES CUT

Prices Fixed For Ale Made by

B. C. Breweries

Champagne prices for Moet and Chandon are being cut from $7.50 a quart to $6 by the Liquor Control Board. The price of pints is being reduced from $4.50 to $3.50. The new price is being brought into effect in time for the Christmas trade.

Ale of 12 per cent. strength of alcohol equal in strength to Bass', is now being produced by the Vancouver Brewery and the Silver Spring and Victoria-Phoenix Breweries, and has now been placed in all Government vendors' stores.

Attorney-General Manson has put through a price list according to which Vancouver Breweries' ale will be sold at $30 a barrel, the same price as beer, in Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Nanaimo, and nearby Lower Mainland and Island centres. The highest price will be at Pouce Coupe where $35 a barrel will be charged. The Prince Rupert price will be $21.50. Prince George $23.50, Quesnel, $26, and at points in the Interior from $22 to $25.

Silver Spring and Victoria-Phoenix ale will be sold at higher prices, the Victoria, Vancouver, and Nanaimo price being $23 a barrel. At Duncan, Sidney and Alberni the price will be $24 a barrel. At Ladysmith it will be $24.50, at Prince Rupert, $24.50, Atlin $35 a barrel, and at Interior points from $25 to $28.35 a barrel. The highest price will be $36 a barrel at Pouce Coupe.

The latest liquor store, the second of the four which Major R. J. Burde has asked for his constituency of Alberni, was opened yesterday at Parksville with B. Benson as vendor in charge.

The lady who put down the newspaper she had been reading.

"These firemen must be a frivolous lot!" she remarked.

"Why do you think that, granny?" asked her grandson.

"Because it says in this paper," the old lady explained, "that after the fire was under control at a building last night, the firemen played on the ruins all night. Why could they not go home to bed like sensible men instead of romping about like children?"

Let us, before we leave this discussion of the social classes that were developing in these first civilizations, devote a little attention to their fixity. How far did they stand aloof from each other, and how far did they intermingle?

Social Flotsam.

So far as the classes we have counted as 9, 10, 11, and 12 go, that is, the servants, the gang laborers and slaves, the gang soldiers, and to a lesser extent the sailors, or at any rate the galley rowers among the sailors, they were largely recruited classes, they did not readily and easily form homes, they were not distinctively breeding classes; they were probably replenished generation after generation by captives, by the failures of other classes, and especially from the failures of the class of small retailers, and by persuasion and impressment from among the cultivators.

But so far as the sailors go, we have to distinguish between the mere rower and the navigating and ship-owning seamen of such ports as Tyre and Sidon. The shipowners pass no doubt, by insensible gradations into the mercantile class, but the navigators must have made a peculiar community in the great seaports.

Confident Community Chest Objective of $86,000 Will Be Reached

The Rotary Club, at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day, laid plans for joining with other organizations to "put over" the Community Chest drive, which is proceeding in the city now. Rotarians who have been canvassing the city for funds for the Community Chest reported that they had received generous response in many directions but that considerable misunderstanding about the purposes of the Chest Fund still existed. They felt confident, however, that it would be possible to reach the $86,000 objective set for the charity campaign.

Speaking from long and intimate experience in charity work, Rotarian Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick declared that the Community Chest plan would eliminate overlapping in relief efforts. In the past, he said, many people had secured undesired relief from several organizations. This could not occur under the Community Chest system, he affirmed.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The meeting of the Liberal Women's Forum scheduled for tomorrow afternoon has been postponed until Friday, November 24, at 3.30 p.m.

Another English mail, comprising 50 bags of papers, 40 bags of parcel post and 1 bag of letters, arrived here this morning for distribution by the local Post Office. The mail left England on November 1 on the S.S. Empress of France.

During a downpour of rain John Collins, night watchman at Lemon-Gonnason Lumber Company, was knocked down at 11 o'clock last night at the corner of King's Road and Douglas Street in collision with a car driven by Charles W. Jordan, 2162 Somerset Avenue. Collins was rushed to the Jubilee Hospital where it was found his injuries were not serious.

Ward 3 Liberal Association will hold a "get together" social tomorrow evening at headquarters, when there will be a musical programme, social and five hundred games. The arrangements for the evening are in the hands of Mrs. Laing, social convener, Fred Herd, managing the cards, while Messrs. Watson and Dumbleton will have charge of the arrangements for the concert and dance.

Through an error in the report of the Equine Institute meeting yesterday, the names of the nominees for first and second vice-presidents were confused. They should have read as follows: For first vice-president, Mrs. Wise and Mrs. Frank Campbell; second vice-president, Mrs. McQuarrie and Mrs. Jacklin.

That a woollen mill will yet be started in Victoria is the conviction of E. Hodgson, who is here again from London and will remain until after the New Year. Mr. Hodgson says that financial conditions are improving and that Canada is fast coming into favor for investment of British capital. So far as the woollen industry is concerned he is convinced that Victoria will have to offer concessions in the way of land grant or exemptions if the woollen industry is ever to be started here and he is convinced that the people desire that this should be done.

At the close of the appeal of Rex versus Cooper, heard in the County Court yesterday before His Honor Judge Lampman, judgment was reserved. H. B. Robertson, K. C., appeared for the Municipality of Saanich, the respondents, while F. C. Elliott acted for the appellant, Thomas Cooper, an erstwhile jitney operator of that Municipality who had been refused a license and was subsequently fined $25 for operating his car within the precincts. The point involved at law was the competence of the Council to draft and bring into force the Motor Vehicle Regulation By-law, in which the main feature is a limitation of permits.

The Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce, under the chairmanship of Frank Waring, has virtually eliminated the Gorge Park from the list of possibilities in so far as establishing a free camping site for visiting motorists is concerned, but the group is still of the opinion that interest has been aroused in the question of establishing such accommodation. The move has set the people thinking and it should be possible to decide soon on the best location, Mr. Waring thinks. The site now most in favor in the group's consideration is that near the Old Men's Home. A luncheon will be held at Spencer's at noon tomorrow when this matter will be discussed among other important subjects.

The regular meeting of Royal Review, No. 18, W.B.A., was held in Harmony Hall on Monday evening. A communication from headquarters was read, and the members were pleased to hear that they are now entitled to their charters. The presentation will probably be made at the first meeting of the New Year. Reports of committees showed a substantial sum had been added to the funds as a result of the masquerade dance and sale of work. It was decided to hold another sale of work to-day at Sam Scott's old store on Douglas Street to dispose of the remainder of the articles. There will also be a fish pond and guessing contests. A carnival dance will be held on November 27, with Mrs. Mitchell as convener. A Christmas tree will be given for the children on December 27.

The Boys' Work Committee of Wilkinson Road Sunday school, consisting of H. S. Pringle, H. M. Hillis, Reg. Ehrig and George Jones, C. A. Putland, of Elk Lake, and their respective groups of boys, held a successful bean supper and concert at the church last evening. Following the supper Hugh Allison and Bill Hardy gave a report of the recent Boys' Convention at Duncan. Rev. Frank Hardy told the story of an unsolicited donation from a returned soldier for a shingle on the roof of the Social Hall and Gymnasium the boys are undertaking to add to the church equipment. The Boys' Work Committee of the Victoria Rotary Club provided the concert. Weather conditions were bad and the music marred by continual interruptions by a local wireless station, but with Dr. Poyntz as accompanist and Dr. Watson as operator, the evening was full.

These facts came out before the Legislative Public Accounts Committee to-day in its investigation of liquor affairs.

PLAN RESOURCES SURVEY FOR B. C. STEEL INDUSTRY

Bill Would Allow Minister to Spend $50,000

A bill to ratify the agreement between the Federal and Provincial ministers of mines, providing for exploration of the iron ore resources of British Columbia, has been introduced in the Legislature by Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines.

The bill authorizes the Minister to expend $50,000.

The agreement between the two ministers, which is set out in a schedule attached to the bill, provides that the geological survey, under the Dominion Minister of Mines, will make investigations, to be supplemented by further work under the Provincial minister.

The bill reserves to the Province the right to charge against public properties the cost of its investigation and exploration, with interest at 6 per cent.

In explanation, Mr. Sloan told the Legislature that under the terms of the agreement, which had been entered into some months ago, the Geological Survey through Dr. Young had already spent four months in the field. He said that the object of the bill was to obtain a fund of information conducive to the establishment of an iron and steel industry in British Columbia.

WOULD PROTECT PRAIRIE MARKET FOR B. C. FRUIT

Col. Fred Lister, Conservative member for Kaslo, will move a resolution to-morrow asking the Legislature to request Ottawa to re-nact the anti-dumping legislation affecting the fruit industry.

In his preamble he points out that the natural market for British Columbia fruit is the prairie provinces and this market has been seriously affected by Americans dumping large quantities on the prairies ahead of the Canadian produce.

He maintains that the present serious condition of the fruit industry is due to the Federal Government's action in cancelling the anti-dumping legislation.

BROTHERHOOD OF RAILWAYMEN PRESENT NEEDS

Ask for Several Legislative Changes

Asking that the Workmen's Compensation Act be amended so as to provide for higher allowances for injured workmen and their dependents, a delegation waited upon Premier Oliver and his Cabinet to-day from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Conductors, Firemen, Enginemen and Trainmen. They ask that the burial allowance be raised from $75 to $150; that increases be given in general amounting to about fifteen per cent.

They ask that provision be made for the payment of a lump sum of $100 to the widow or person acting as foster-mother in addition to other allowances. They also ask that in event of the death of an unmarried workman or widow without dependents a sum of $1,000 be collected from the employers and devoted to the work of a rehabilitation fund for the education of permanently or partially disabled workmen who would not otherwise receive compensation.

The delegation asked that the age limit of children receiving assistance be raised from fifteen to eighteen.

They urged the Government to bring in legislation making it impossible for municipality to levy a poll tax or road tax on anyone who can produce tax receipts for the current year from some other municipality and that no dual income tax be levied by Province or municipality alike.

They also asked that the Government furnish free public school supplies, or, failing this, to provide for uniformity of textbooks and material issued to the public at cost.

They also want stricter inspection of sanitary conditions in railway camps and suggest that a compulsory school age of children be raised from fifteen to sixteen years.

The Government promised to consider these representations on amending the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Beaumont Boggs Addresses Game Board on Question

Claiming that fox farming on Vancouver Island would be profitable, Beaumont Boggs gave a very interesting resume of the industry as it is carried on in Eastern Canada when the topic of creating an industry on the island was broached by Mr. Boggs before the Game Conservation Board yesterday afternoon. There was a large public attendance and great interest developed in the stories related by some of the best known hunters in the Province who were present.

Little of birds and mammals were discussed at length and the subject became so interesting at times that Chairman M. H. Jackson was unwillingly obliged to recall the meeting to the point under debate.

Mr. Boggs, in connection with the silver fox farming scheme, said that the industry had been made a great success on Prince Edward Island.

The decrease in fur-bearing animals and the increase in demand should make such an industry a paying one on Vancouver Island, where, the speaker claimed, the climatic conditions were much more favorable to the production of high quality pelts. The industry had been looked upon as one of such great importance in the East that the Government of Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, together with Eastern States, had legislated to assist the industry.

A silver fox farm has already been established at Elk Lake, where five pairs of silver fox will be kept, said Mr. Boggs, who produced photographs of the animals raised there.

Mr. Jackson informed the meeting that during the past Summer the Government had been busy gathering a great deal of data on this subject and already had drafted legislation to enable the industry to get a proper start here.

An Expert's Opinion

C. H. French said that everything Mr. Boggs related was correct, but he pointed out that Prince Edward Island had been breeding dark fox to meet the demand for dark fur. The demand changes, and this is a factor that must be reckoned with. As to the suitability of the climate of Vancouver Island for the silver fox, he had his doubts. The raccoon was one animal the climate here did not suit.

Coast marten brought $10 in comparison with the interior's $25, and there was the same difference in other pelts.

The impost by the United States of fifty per cent. would decrease the demand for silver fox, which sold last October for $102 on an average. "I am still convinced there is money in silver fox raising provided the climate is right," said Mr. French, who was of the opinion that a cross between the red fox would give a pelt that would become just as valuable as the silver fox.

See Mr. French at last night's meeting. The last shipment from the north for the Hudson's Bay Company contained eighteen skins. Other varieties of fur are fast disappearing. Game preserves alone could save these animals from total extinction, said Mr. French, who also said that timber wolf pelts were now bringing a high price.

There was a good deal of argument regarding the most suitable arrangements for game seasons, and it was generally agreed that deer and various classes of birds should come in on the same date. Chairman Jackson said that nothing would be done until the next season of the board regarding the fixing of dates and the matter would be thoroughly discussed then and the representations made in the meantime would be well considered by the board.

COMPOSITIONS OF SCHUMANN PLEASE

Excellent Programme Under Auspices of Ladies' Musical Club at Empress

Continuing their series of evenings with the great composers and laid down by the committee at the beginning of the season, the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club last evening at the ballroom of the Empress Hotel devoted their programme to the works of Robert Alexander Schumann. Here is a master who can number among his contemporaries such famous men as Felix Mendelssohn (1809), Franz Liszt (1811), Richard Wagner (1813) and Frederic Chopin (1809).

Schumann was a composer of strong, deep nature, with philosophical tendencies and of epoch-making accomplishments, as he it was who opened up a new horizon, both in form, picturesque and in technique. His earliest works were wholly for the piano, of which his "Papillons" may be called—the "keynote" of his future career. The first number of last night's programme, "Novellette," played skilfully, intelligently and discerningly by Rita Ormiston, is one of his Novelletten in four books, op. 21, written in the period when his works became more and more important from 1834 onwards. The second piano numbers (a) "Romance" (one of a group of three), (b) "Finnish" and "Etudes Symphoniques" which rank with the greatest works of their kind, played by one of Gertrude Huntley Green's advanced pupils, Margaret Campbell, were splendid examples of this young pianist's clearness of technique and understanding, and in the romance, dreamy and political, did she evince a singing quality of tone much to be admired.

In the two contrasting numbers (a) "The Prophet Bird," popular with all pianists, and (b) "Hunting Song," the third group of piano numbers, Lucile Hall showed thorough musical attainments, and with further study will go far in her chosen field. She plays with much taste and understanding, and she bears all the earmarks of technical equipment.

The last piano number was the first movement from one of the masterly concertos of Schumann, in a minor, played by Miss Young, Mrs. Green playing the orchestral arrangement at the second piano. This pianist has a facile and technical equipment of a high order, and the number proved a perfect example of piano playing, which met with most hearty favor of those present.

The examples of songs given during the evening by H. J. Davis and Mrs. Harry Briggs were mostly, if not all, from Schumann's first book of songs which he dedicated and presented his bride on her wedding morn. In fact, many of the greatest of this composer's songs were written in 1840, following his marriage to Clara Wieck. Among them are most beautiful song cycles and tonal settings. Those sung by Mr. Davis were "In Mazy," "When Thy Sweet Eyes I Gaze Upon," "Murmur Not" and "Clown Song," in all of which the singer, who possesses a baritone voice of good quality, gave delightfully enunciated passages, combined with expression and evidence of much study of the songs' characterizations. Those sung by Mrs. Briggs were "A Spring Night," "Ah, Sweet As Any Flower" and "Devotion." These, too, received close study of their characteristics, and in her second number were there moments of devotional sense, as were there evidences of much dramatic ability and charm in her other numbers. She, as did the others taking part in the evening's proceedings, had to add an extra number, so pleased and appreciative were those present. Mrs. J. G. Gibson was admirable in her support to the two singers, as is her work in her accompaniments. Madame Sanderson-Mongin charmingly supplied the lecture on the "Life and Examples of Schumann," and the programme was arranged by Mrs. Hermann Robertson.

BAPTISTS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Delegates to Vancouver Island Association Meet in Emmanuel Church

The annual meeting of the Vancouver Island Association of Baptist churches was held yesterday afternoon and evening in the Emmanuel Church, delegates being in attendance from Nanaimo, Chemainus and points on the Spanish Peninsula, as well as a splendid representation from the city. The afternoon session opened at 2:30 p. m., with the president, Dr. William Russell in the chair. At 3 o'clock the Women's Association reported on their mission work with Mrs. H. P. Thorpe presiding. Mrs. C. Spofford gave a splendid address on work in the Province amongst the non-English people. Following this reports of Mission Circle doings were given by Mrs. Arnold, of Douglas Street; Mrs. W. Russell, First Church; Mrs. H. P. Thorpe, Emmanuel Church, and Mrs. Mayne for Nanaimo.

The newly elected officers for the Baptist Women's Association are: President, Mrs. Mayne; secretary, Mrs. F. D. Hodges; organizer, Mrs. C. Spofford; advisory committee, Mrs. Haverstock, Mrs. Redman and Mrs. Pinkerton.

Work on island. At 4 o'clock a conference was held on the subject of Baptist extension work on Vancouver Island. Rev. W. P. Freeman being in charge. Many delegates took part in this conference, and a resolution was passed authorizing the newly elected executive committee to take any necessary action. At the conclusion of this conference reports on Sunday School work were received from leaders in the various districts represented in the gathering.

At 5 o'clock the delegates and officers of local churches sat down to a splendid supper served by the ladies of the Emmanuel Church. Short addresses were given by Rev. Wm. Stevenson, Mayor Marchant, Rev. A. W. Mayne, W. P. Freeman, S. Redman and J. Willard Litch. A cordial vote of thanks was unanimously passed to the ladies, to which Mrs. Clapham fittingly responded.

Evening Session. The evening session opened at 8 o'clock with a short devotional service led by Rev. E. M. Cook, of Chemainus. Reports of Young People's work were given by Miss Major First Church; Geo. Francis, Emmanuel; Rev. S. Redman, Douglas Street, and Rev. A. W. Mayne, Nanaimo.

Rev. W. P. Freeman gave a short address on Young People's work, with emphasis on the importance of the work among boys and girls of teen age, making a strong plea for workers and leaders in what was considered to be the most strategic position in the churches service to any community.

The concluding address of the association was given by Rev. J. Willard Litch, M. A., of Vancouver, Superintendent of Baptist Missions for British Columbia. He spoke of stewardship with relation to the religious needs of the people dwelling especially on the need of men, of money and of the straight message of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Officers. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Rev. W. P. Freeman; first vice-president, R. Chave, second vice-president, Rev. E. M. Cook; secretary-treasurer, Miss M. H. Standish (re-elected); executive committee, Revs. Wm. Stevenson and A. W. Mayne, Messrs. A. Galbraith and Straight, and Messames Thorpe, Pearman and Russell.

Rev. R. Lennie pronounced the benediction.

CRIMINAL CODE FOR OFFENDERS

Careless Hunters Responsible For Casualties Attacked

A strong appeal that the Government should institute legislation providing for the criminal prosecution of careless hunters who shoot without seeing what they are shooting at, causing injury and death to many a hunter engaged in stalking game, was made by Dr. Brown, of Nanaimo, and Captain Barclay, of the Cowichan Game Association at the final public session of the Game Conservation Board here. The Board went into private session yesterday morning.

"It is an offence to kill various birds and animals, but there is no penalty provided for the taking of human life just because it is an 'accident.' If there is a movement at all in the bush there are a lot of hunters who will take a pot shot at the spot, and the result is that someone is killed or injured."

"There are too many of these so-called accidents, and any man who is responsible for such carelessness should at least be held on a charge of manslaughter instead of being allowed to go scot free," declared Dr. Brown.

Mence Our Highways. The danger of bird hunters engaging in the practice of shooting toward the highways and in too close proximity thereto, was pointed out by Dr. Brown, who instanced the recent shooting of a woman on the highway, and the injury of others.

Shooting at random was also severely condemned by Captain Barclay, and other hunters who attended the meeting.

M. B. Jackson, M. P., Chairman of the Board, said that the seriousness of the question was duly recognized, and that the matter should be referred to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa for amendment to the Criminal Code, as it is a criminal matter. He also intimated that the Provincial Government might enact legislation providing for civil liability.

Responsibility of Car Owners. The question of making owners of motor cars responsible for the occupants of their car in case they committed a breach of the law or were responsible for injury was raised by Captain Barclay for the Cowichan Association, and Mr. Jackson assured the delegates that the Government was at present framing an amendment to the Act to provide that when one member of a party is circumstantially guilty of an offense, every member of the party is guilty of the same offense.

Muskat Menace

That right be given to exterminate muskrats in the dyking areas where these animals do a great deal of damage, and that this right be given the settlers without the necessity of obtaining a permit, was the contention of J. A. Catherwood, member for Dewdney.

The Board called attention to the fact that hunters had complained that farmers along the dyking areas had refused to allow them to hunt the muskrats along the dykes, but it was pointed out that there was a one hundred-foot Government reserve along the dykes over which hunters might pass without question, and it was there that the animals were to be found. The request will receive consideration.

No Special Privilege. "There are no pets or favorites of the Game Conservation Board, and they get no benefits, regardless of who they are or what they are," declared Mr. Jackson in answering in the negative an inquiry from S. J. Herd, of Victoria, as to whether or not special privileges to shoot Government-owned birds on Rithet's Farm had been given.

"No private individual has been given birds for private use by this Board. Rithet's Farm, like many other cultivated places, naturally attract these birds," said Mr. Jackson.

SURVIVED THE ORDEAL. "When your horse stopped, was it a stop dead?" a witness was asked at Marylebone, England. Witness: "Oh, no; the horse was still alive."

SAYS JAPANESE HERE TRAFFIC IN CITIZENS' PAPERS

Pooley Urges That All Oriental Naturalizations Be Cancelled

Every Ninth Person in B. C.
Asiatic, Jones Informs Legislature

George S. Hanes, Independent member for North Vancouver, who moved the Oriental resolution in the Legislature last session, which was carried unanimously, called the attention of the House on Tuesday to the fact that the resolution had not been forwarded to Ottawa for several months after the House proposed. He asked the Premier not to be so slow in forwarding the results of the Legislature's action in the present instance.

R. H. Pooley, Conservative member for Esquimalt, also urged speed and suggested that the Sloan resolution be withdrawn in favor of the Bowler amendment, since the latter, he claimed, covered the situation more fully.

The Esquimalt member contended that politics entered into the Oriental question to a large extent and expressed wonder that Mr. Sloan had not shown more interest in forwarding last year's resolution to Ottawa.
The minister seemed hot on the trail of the Asiatic this year, he added.

Would Cancel Papers.

Mr. Pooley commented upon the issuing of naturalization papers to Japanese in past years and said that these had been traded around for the purpose of securing fishing licenses.
He counseled the cancellation of all Oriental naturalization papers and the reissue of the same only where Orientals could show that they were fully entitled to them. In addition the photograph of the person to whom the papers were issued should become a part of the document.

He remarked that it was difficult to understand why the Minister of Mines had not followed the mandate of the Nelson Liberal convention and brought in a resolution favoring total exclusion. The mover of the resolution before the House either should ignore the finding of the convention or support Mr. Bowser's amendment, he declared.

Capturing Strawberry Districts.

Mr. Pooley said that with Orientals representing 39 per cent. of labor in the lumbering industry and 54 per cent. in the manufacture of shingles, the Oriental menace was plainly apparent. California had been obliged to take drastic steps to curtail Asiatic immigration, and British Columbia must do likewise. He spoke of the inroads which the Chinese and Japanese had made in the production of strawberries and other fruits in the Gordon Head and Keating district. Their competition was as keen as that in the Ashcroft potato district.

Discriminate Against Canadians.
J. W. Jones, Conservative member for South Okanagan, who has been one of the chief exponents of Asiatic exclusion in the House for several years, went exhaustively into the situation and quoted figures to prove that the Oriental population in B.C.
was increasing at an alarming rate.
He urged Premier Oliver to show the same interest which he had manifested at Ottawa in the fight for cheaper freight rates.

"There are several questions which we must ask ourselves," said Mr.
Jones. "First, can we assimilate the Asiatic? The answer is emphatically no. Second, have we the right to say who shall be permitted the rights of Canadian citizenship? Severely we have. Third, shall we permit the Oriental to enjoy privileges in this country which are denied Canadians in Japan?"

The South Okanagan member showed that according to information supplied, it was impossible for Canadians to hold land in Japan or to enter commercial fields. They could not engage in shipping or own vessels trading in Japanese waters.
They could not become shareholders in Japanese banks, railways or development companies. The privileges they enjoy in Canada, and especially British Columbia?

Worse Than California.

Mr. Jones quoted some figures which caused the House to come to attention. He said that out of a population of 223,000 in the Province there were 84,000 Orientals, or one in nine. In California, which state had been forced to take drastic measures, the proportion was only one in 24. In the whole of the United States there were only 171,000
Asiatics, while Canada had 65,000, or five times as many as the union, considering population.

He explained that the Japanese in this country were subject to the rule of the Japanese sovereign.
And if through the Consul-General. And if the sons of Nippon increased as they were doing at present in B.C. there would be 10,000 Japanese babies born in 1927—a number as great as the births of whites in 1921.

Speaking of his own district, Mr.
Jones said that in one fruit district, out of a total of 248 growers 120 were Orientals, while similar conditions obtained in other fruit districts of B.C.

The Japanese had secured control of the fishing industry, he asserted, and had obtained a strong grip upon the mining and lumbering industries.
The Chinese were in control of market-gardening, and it was high time that the Province awakened to the seriousness of the situation.

Keep Them Out of Mines.

Thomas Uphill, Labor member for Fernie, dealt with the Oriental question from the miner's viewpoint. He argued that the miners in his district saw to it that Orientals were kept out of the mines, and the same should be true of other mining areas.
Who but the miner, who risked his life below ground should have the right to say who should carry safety lamps? he asked. "In some instances a miner might be stationed a mile from danger, but the ignition of gas through carelessness would send him into eternity.

He expressed satisfaction over the fact that "at last others than the workers are taking up the fight against the Asiatic."

"Man's majesty interests govern his decisions," he commented, "and the strides of the Asiatic in this Province are at least serving to bring home the menace of his presence. The Orient is teeming with millions of workers and they will place their product upon our markets, whether they produce it here or in their own country."

He criticized the Minister of Mines for granting certificates of competency to Japanese and Chinese miners. Many secured their papers, he maintained, when they could not speak or understand English, and if questioned would not know the meaning of "Wah hoo."

The Opposition leader asked if Ottawa had dealt with the Legislature's resolution of last year.

Mr. Farria, ex-Attorney-General, explained that the Supreme Court of Canada had declared the resolution ultra vires, but the Federal Government had not acted in the matter.
Major R. J. Burde moved the adjournment of the debate.

FAVOR ORIENTAL HOUSE RESOLUTION

Canadian Legion Urges Instant Action

The principle of Oriental attrition was endorsed by the local branch of the Canadian Legion in session last night. The organization went on record as being heartily in favor of the resolution before the Provincial House on this matter, and urged instant action to bring the question to the attention of the Federal authorities at Ottawa. The principle of ex-service organizations' amalgamation received further discussion. Some discussion took place on the Community Chest budget, the matter being referred to the executive committee for action. Pension successes were reported, as well as the addition of eleven new members. A resolution of thanks was passed to all those who took part in the Armistice Period Committee or otherwise aided the Association on Armistice Day. It was announced that the first annual dance of the Women's Auxiliary would be held on December 1, when Hunt's orchestra will officiate at the function to be held in the Alexandra ballroom.

OPEN HOUSE NIGHT

SATURDAY AT "Y"

Invitations Given to Boys to Attend Organization for One Night

It will be open house at the Y.M.
C.A. on Saturday. All boys over the age of 13 years are qualified to accept an invitation from one of the members, and those who wish to attend, and have no means of securing an invitation, can secure one on application to the desk at the association building.

The building will be open for those boys who have invitations and much is to be seen in the manner of physical training, the social side of the boys' programme, and the aquatic end of it.

The house will open at 7 o'clock, and a continuous round of entertainment will be given until 9 p.m., when it will come to a conclusion. Gymnastics by Leaders' Corps "A" and
"B," basketball between picked teams, polo races, demonstration boxing,
and tumbling by the Tiny Tumblers will be included on the gymnasium programme, while the aquatic events will include diving exhibitions, a water polo match, and as a grand finale a swim for the life preserver will be conducted in the game room. A billiard tournament will be in progress as also will a ping pong match, while music selections by the boys' orchestra will be a feature of the entertainment.

Delicious - wholesome.
A complete food.

CORPSE TOO LIVELY FOR MORTIFICATION

Morticians and embalmers rushed to the Empress Hotel early in the morning when they heard that a member of the Legislature had passed away in his apartments there.
They took with them the usual long basket in which to carry him away. Up the elevator they took it to the third floor and left it in the hall in front of the room of a member, while they hunted up the room of the "dead" one.

While they were away what should happen but that this last mentioned member should open his door, stumble and fall into the basket, and thought for a minute perhaps that he was really dead.

When the undertakers found the room to which they were called they discovered the "deceased" very much alive entertaining a party of parliamentarians with his experiences.

Now they are looking for the man who sent in the telephone call and told them that this legislator had passed away completely.

They also sent in a bill for $20 for service expenses in connection with the call. No one knows who is going to pay it.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Dan McLellan came in on the train last night from the Hewitt mine at New Denver, and will return on Monday. Dan says everything is going fine with him. He brought in an assessment of as fine ore samples as has been seen for some time, which are on display in Byers-Giegerich-Green Co.'s windows, and are attracting considerable attention. — Kaslo

Gifts in beautiful Anniversary Packages

A GIFT of 1847 Rogers Bros. Silverplate always shows good taste and good sense of value. In attractive velvet-lined gift boxes and chests, this fine silverplate makes an ideal Anniversary Gift. It is the more appropriate, because this year marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of silverware that bears the quality date—1847.

Every one who receives this distinctive Anniversary Silverplate or selects it for her own use lays the foundation for a complete table service in harmony. Each new piece in the same pattern adds to the value of the others. The fancy serving pieces—berry spoon, pie knife or cold meat fork—contribute that little touch so necessary in correct table settings.

A Young Man's Investment

A satisfactory medical examination secures him a Capital Return Policy—combining Savings, Insurance, and Investment.

His policy means good health and future success, which improves his standing in the eyes of a certain "important person."

His tendency to save and invest creates a favorable impression upon his employers.

He finds his savings of great assistance in buying a home.

And as time goes on he is enabled to enjoy many of the good things of life.

Every Dollar Comes Back With Substantial Dividends

Have you ever heard of an absolutely safe investment, purchased by instalments, which does not require the payments to be completed if you become disabled, but, instead, pays you a monthly income as long as you live?

—which cancels all further payments in event of death and pays immediately the full amount you had set out to save?

—or, at the end of 20 years, absolutely guarantees to return to you every dollar you have deposited in annual premiums, with substantial dividends?

The Capital Return Policy

is a new departure in life insurance policies which the Canada Life introduced to the public. It has carried out the above program for a great number of policyholders who wisely took advantage of it.

This Policy Gives You---

1. Immediate Life Insurance protection for your home.
2. Cash values, available in emergencies, which, with the substantial dividends added at stated intervals, make your policy a valuable business asset.
3. At the end of 20 years you can draw out all you have paid in, along with dividends which have been compounding at interest,—

Or, you can take a Special Cash Guarantee, along with the accumulated dividends, and continue the policy (fully paid for) earning dividends as long as you live,—

Or, this Special Cash Guarantee may be applied to increase the amount of your policy—for example, a $5,000 policy would be raised to more than $7,500.

And in addition---

Suppose some day you should become totally and permanently disabled through accident or illness. Immediately all further deposits would cease, and you would receive $50.00 a month as long as you live—and the $5,000 would be paid in full at your death. (This feature is added for a small extra payment yearly, which is not returnable with the regular deposits.)

special super-feature which is now showing at the Columbia, was being filmed, William Farnum needed all his energy, endurance and good luck; for not only was he creating the most exacting role of his screen career, as Bob Moore in "Perjury," but he was involved in several separate enterprises besides.

One day when the almost indefatigable star was weary and worried, walking with head down, his eyes caught a tiny gleam of light. He stooped to the sidewalk and picked up a little silver Buddha which proved to be a box containing two diminutive discs no larger than mustard seeds. He went on his way smiling, and next day displayed his find proudly at

ROYAL VICTORIA

A beautiful, graceful, animated 19-year-old girl who is really 61 will appear at the Royal again to-day and for the rest of the week. She is Edna Wallace Hopper, former wife of De Wolf Hopper, and the star at one time of "Floradora." She will tell the women of Victoria how she reclaimed her youthful looks, her flapper-like ways, and her excellent vitality. One year ago, it is said, Miss Hopper was a wrinkled, withered woman, filled with the usual aches and pains that are associated with elderly people. To-day she is a magnificent specimen of young girlhood. On Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, she will give a special matinee for women only.

The dangers that motion picture stars and players expose themselves to in their effort to obtain realism is quite apparent to the audiences who enjoy their bravado, but few ever think of the director and the cameraman when it comes to the taking of scenes that involve great personification.

the Fox New York studios, recounting the circumstances. Farnum luckily chanced his friends about the wheel and rear deck of a large three masted schooner, Miss Phillips and the supporting players seem comfortable enough but at the time these shots were being taken Mr. Holubar and his cameraman, lashed with ropes and safety belts to the deck rail, were operating from a platform, built over the water from the outside of the schooner, with the wind blowing at a high rate and the ship rolling to such an extent that the camera platform frequently dipped into the water.

The ship was under full sail at the time and its speed was amplified by two auxiliary motors. The water was unusually rough and if Mr. Holubar or his aide had been thrown into the ocean the work of rescue might not have been consummated without the occurrence of a fatality. The distance between Mr. Holubar and the centre of the action made it hard for him to make himself understood, even with the aid of a megaphone, because of the howling of the wind and the noise from the motor exhausts. It was not until the camera had been lashed to the platform and Mr. Holubar and his cameraman securely bound by belts to the deck rail that the scenes could be properly and completely recorded.

CAPITOL

There are times when beauty is a handicap—even in motion picture work, as a score of South Sea Islanders in Thomas Meighan's latest Paramount picture, "The Man Who Saw To-morrow," can testify.

Had beauty been a requisite in their cases they would not have landed jobs. On the contrary, they were selected because they were the ugliest specimens available.

This group of natives includes Kapaekapa, Filipinos, Tahitians and representatives from most of the tropical islands. They have only one common trait—they are uniformly homely.

Approximately half of the story of "The Man Who Saw To-morrow," now being shown at the Capitol Theatre, occurs in the tropics. The remaining scenes of the picture show New York, England and India. Percy Poore Sheehan and Frank Condon are the authors, and Mr. Condon and Will M. Ritchey prepared the scenario.

Director Alfred Green had a company of more than thirty on location filming the South Sea island episodes of the story. Included in the company are Leatrice Joy, Theodore Roberts, June Elvidge, Albert Kosslo, Eva Novak, Alec Francis, Laurence Wheat, John Milner, Robert Brower and Edward Patrick.

DOMINION

"Broadway Rose," which Monday opened at the Dominion Theatre, is sure to appeal to those who found pleasure in Miss Murray's recent productions, "Peacock Alley" and "Fascination," and that means nearly everyone who goes to the movies.

For in "Broadway Rose" Miss Murray has an interesting story giving her a role which affords every opportunity for the unusual ability which has made her recent pictures a joy to see. In the present picture she is a country girl who has won the favor of Broadway by her ability as a dancer. She loves Hugh Thompson, the son of a wealthy Pitt Avenue parents who are bitterly opposed to his infatuation. Seeking only happiness for herself and the man she loves, she consents to a secret marriage in order to avoid an open break between Hugh and his family. But they discover the facts, and are relentless in the determination that their son's life shall not be ruined by such an alliance. The complications which ensue bring Rosalie very near to disaster, but in the end she finds real happiness.

"Broadway Rose" is a Tiffany production directed by Robert Z. Leonard. The story and scenario are by Edmund Goulding, and the photography by Oliver T. Marsh, the art settings by Charles Cadwalder.

U. C. STARS SEEN WITH VALENTINO IN ROWING SCENE

Stars of the oar assisted a screen star recently, when Rodolph Valentino went to San Francisco to make the Harvard-Yale boat race scenes for his latest Paramount picture, "The Young Rajah," which will be on view at the Dominion Theatre Monday next.

When the company arrived in San Francisco, director Philip Rosen engaged Coach Ben Wallis, of the University of California, to aid in staging the race and coaching the contestants, and several members of the U. of C. crew of 1922 to row the shells in the race staged for this sequence of the picture.

Coach Wallis was formerly a Yale man and has coached the California team for four or five years.

Notable among the men who played oarsmen in the scenes were Paul M. King, class of '22, cockswain, and oarsmen Bob Bolling, class of '24, Felix Mehan, class of '21, C. R. Seim, class of '22 and Harry Dona, class of '22.

When the company returned to the Paramount West Coast studio in Hollywood to make the sequence showing the victorious oarsmen at a banquet celebrating their victory, the race heroes were engaged to come down to the studio and work in those scenes with Valentino. After two days' work at the studio, the men again departed for the Bay City.

LIVELY STORY OF LOVE AND LAUGHTER NOW AT PLAYHOUSE

The Balkan Princess Highly Pleased First Night Audience

The "Balkan Princess," now being offered by the Playhouse as the eighth of Reggie Hincks' potted operas, is tuneful, well staged, and appeals to the sentiments and delights the laughter loving.

It should prove one of the hits of the year, the opening presentation last night being accorded an ovation at the final curtain.

A well told and plausible love story forms the central theme, with Eva Hart, the incognito Princess Stephanie, becoming enamored with a traveling artist whom she meets in a little village. Maris Hale is the hero, who turns out to be the Prince Boris, the as yet unseen prospective husband of the Royal lady. On this foundation the happily ending story is built with a convincing realism.

Miss Hart delights with a number of brilliantly rendered numbers, the first being "Dreaming" with the Prince, showing the fine quality of Mr. Hale's baritone voice.

Webb Sheds Laughs Around.

Bob Webb surprised all his friends with his notable rendition of the part of Aaron Brightman, the low comedy Jew. Every one of the many opportunities was made the utmost of, and with the support of Peggy Lewis as his befuddled East End daughter Rachel, Mr. Webb at times caused the audience to forget the sentimental side of the play in their succession of hearty laughs.

As Count Benedict, guardian to the runaway Princess and Statu Chanceller, Mr. Hincks gives a finished portrayal of the irascible but lovable old aristocrat.

Marie McLaughlin, Lorna Green, Eileen Allwood, Jack Gilman and Frank Allwood all have minor parts which they make the most of.

The scenic effects by Stewart Clark are very fine, the second act setting of the Balkan village at night being most effective.

The potted opera is preceded by a one-act play, "Deceptions," with which Eileen and Frank Allwood score hits upon certain types of married couples, and Peggy Lewis sings an engaging ditty wherein she invites all and sundry to "keep your weather eye on me."

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS AS SLASHING CAVALIER IN "THREE MUSKETEERS"

Jane Atherton, niece of the celebrated authoress, Gertrude Atherton, takes the part of a lady-in-waiting in Douglas Fairbanks' sixth United Artists production, "The Three Musketeers," scheduled for a week's run as the feature attraction at the Capitol Theatre starting next week.

Miss Atherton's work in this lavish production indicates that she has inherited much of the genius of her famous aunt. Even though she expresses her talent through the medium of a projection machine instead of over the cylinder of a high-powered printing press.

In addition to being the niece of one of the world's greatest writers, Miss Atherton also claims to be a genuine Valentine girl, for she was born on February 14, in San Francisco eighteen years ago. More than that, she first saw the light of day in a house that stood next door to the old home of Robert Louis Stevenson.

Miss Atherton's screen debut was made in one of her aunt's photoplays, "Don't Neglect Your Wife." Fred Niblo, who directed "The Three Musketeers," believes she has an excellent chance to rise as high in the world of cinematic art as her aunt has in the world of literature.

DUPRE TO APPEAR AT METROPOLITAN ON SATURDAY

Considerable interest is manifested throughout the city at the forthcoming visit of the famous organist of Notre Dame Cathedral of Paris and Grand Prix de Rome, 1914—Marcel Dupre. It is of interest to note that word from Vancouver says the Wesley Church where he plays in that city, has been nearly all sold out so great has been the demand for tickets. This is the case wherever he plays. A few features connected with this recital here will assist those who intend hearing and seeing this remarkable organist. The recital will commence at 8.30, and the doors will be open at 7.45. In order to relieve any congestion at the door the Quadra Street entrance will be used to all those who have the special student and school ticket. The main entrance will be on Pandora Avenue.

to a large and appreciative audience by the missionary department of the Young People's Forum under the direction of Miss Middleton. It was an interesting scene in which half a dozen lands were represented by as many young people in costume, who in turn presented their various claims and their one appeal for mission workers, to a young Canadian girl who had caught a vision of Christian service. The able presentation could not fail to impress those who were in the audience, particularly by the part taken by Miss Kong, representing China. The other representatives were: Canadian Girl, Miss Middleton; India, Miss Winkel; Africa, Miss McHardy; Japan, Miss Bath; South America, Miss Joyce Jones; the Canadian West, Miss Hedley. A recitation was given by Miss Fodger and solos were rendered by Miss Mutch and Messrs. Andrews and Wilderspin. Miss Garbutt conducted the regular opening devotional session.

At the close, Rev. Dr. Sipprell spoke a few words in appreciation and congratulated those who had made the evening a success.

It was announced that on Monday evening next in the auditorium of the church, a lecture would be given by the pastor, Dr. Sipprell, on the subject, "Opportunities, Where You Are." This will be in charge of the Literary Department, and an invitation is extended to all who may find it convenient to attend. Special music will be provided.

"Did he hit you with malice aforethought?" a solicitor asked a witness at Thames Police Court.

"No," was the reply; "with a brick."

Your milk supply couldn't be any sweeter, purer, or more rich and healthful than St. Charles Milk "with the cream left in".

In fact it wouldn't be as rich, because most of the natural moisture is removed from St. Charles Milk, which reduces it to the consistency of cream.

And the supply wouldn't be as convenient, for St. Charles is put up in "a size for every need". Never too much or too little.

PREMIER SAYS BOWSER'S ANTI-ASIATIC MOVE ONLY FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES

Progress on the whole anti-Oriental debate, which has been cluttering up the Legislature since last Friday, when the Hon. William Sloan introduced his motion and Mr. Bowser his amendment to it, came to a sudden halt in the Legislature yesterday when Premier Oliver arose and declared that the Bowser amendment was out of order.

"The amendment is not an amendment in reality at all," the Premier said. "It simply has the effect of introducing a number of extraneous matters and side issues for partizan political purposes."

He declared that Mr. Bowser's amendment to change the word "completely" in the original to "totally" was out of order and did not constitute an amendment.

The Premier said he was not aware that Canada had the treaty-making power assumed in Mr. Bowser's amendment, and that there was no power under which the Dominion Parliament could interfere with the rights of the Provinces under the British North America Act. The Premier quoted from the judgment of the Privy Council in 1890, when the Coal Mines Regulation Act sought to prohibit Chinese in coal mines and was declared ultra vires.

With Mr. Bowser protesting that the sole object of his amendment was to obtain for this Legislature control of the ownership of lands so that that phase of the Oriental problem might be coped with, Speaker Pauline announced that he would reserve his decision on the claim of Premier Oliver that the Bowser amendment was out of order.

Major R. J. Burde, Independent member for Alberni, said that he wanted to extend his compliments to Attorney-General Manson for his anti-Oriental fight.

"If he has done nothing else, he has spread the propaganda," Major Burde said. "The Attorney-General, by his public utterances, did a great deal to influence public opinion in the East and the minds of the members at Ottawa."

The Major told how, 32 years ago, when he was a member of the Typographical Union in Victoria, he took a lead in calling on the labor unions to support the first white laundry here. He declared that labor men had taken the lead in the anti-Oriental fight long before it was possible to interest agriculturists and other classes in it.

"Some of those members who sit in this House as representatives of farming districts are wakening up now," he went on. "Had they woken up at that time there would be no such burning Oriental question as there is to-day."

He went on to tell how he had been consistent in his support of B.C. goods made by white labor, explaining that his collars, tie, hat, shoes and cigars were all made in British Columbia.

"I even carry it to the extent of using that abominable B.C. rye whiskey that the liquor stores sell in the Manson mickys," he continued. "There are a few of them still left in the liquor store, but some members of the House are trying to get rid of them as rapidly as possible."

Major Burde asked Mr. Bowser to withdraw his amendment. He said Sloan resolution so that it could be sent East in such a way as to let the people there know that "we have some unanimity here."

J. A. Catherwood, Conservative member for Dewdney, quoted figures to show the number of Orientals in the agricultural parts of his constituency. He read a statement from the Women's Institute of Port Coquitlam in which the 939 members of the Women's Institutes of the Lower Mainland were called upon to do what they could to make this a white man's country.

Mr. Catherwood said he could remember in the 80's when there were no Orientals in the mines. It was not until a few years later when Orientals did enter the mines that the miners took up the anti-Oriental question. The same had been the history of the attitude of the fruit-growers.

"If Orientals would go into the medical profession, into the lawyers' profession or the surveyors' profession, we would get some action on this," Mr. Catherwood continued.

N. A. Wallinger, Conservative member for Cranbrook, in his first speech in the Legislature, recalled how it was 54 years since the first Chinese appeared in his district. In those days, he said, Chinese were paid only $3 a month. He urged that credit be given the Chinese for the pioneer work done in this Province, particularly for clearing land, as they made it possible for land to be cleared for $25 an acre.

The $500 head tax on Chinese, Mr. Wallinger claimed, had resulted in putting up the wages of Chinese and had enabled the Chinese "bosses" to bring in indentured labor under which arrangement Chinese coolies were imported, their tax paid and then they were forced to work out those charges against them over a couple of years.

"H.C. has to hear almost the whole brunt of Oriental immigration," and the B.C. Government should have the last word to say in any legislation, Mr. Wallinger added.

Mr. Guthrie, socialist member for Ladysmith, said that the Oriental question was merely being played up by the two parties for political capital.

ASKS WHAT MASTER WOULD SAY IN ISSUE

Mrs. Ralph Smith Inquires in Mothers' Pension Debate

Declaring that because of the charges made against the Workmen's Compensation Board with regard to its administration of mothers' pensions by Canon J. Hinchcliffe, Conservative member for Victoria, the Legislature should see to it that the Premier's proposal for a select committee was endorsed, Mary Ellen Smith made a strong plea for fair play in this matter in the Legislature.

Mrs. Smith, in her first speech this session, maintained that the women of British Columbia were receiving the fullest consideration in deserving cases, and it was contrary to the principles of justice and fair play that this criticism should go on record without investigation.

Following a lengthy speech in closing the debate on his resolution, Canon Hinchcliffe said he would persist in asking the House to express regret over the avowed policy of the board in not paying compensation to dependents of returned soldiers, when the latter had died within six months after their return from overseas.

Upon a vote being taken, the Hinchcliffe resolution was defeated by a majority of 30 to 13, only Conservative members supporting the Canon.

N. A. Wallinger, Conservative member for Cranbrook, took the vote, as he had "paired" with E. C. Henniger. Major Burde insisted upon the member voting—and a discussion arose as to the practice of pairing. Speaker Pauline finally advised that in future instances the member pairing with another should withdraw from the floor of the House before the vote was taken.

Mrs. Smith and other members claimed that a woman should not feel ashamed of accepting aid from the Patriotic Fund or any similar fund. She charged that any member who would make charges such as those of the Victoria member and then oppose a full investigation did not have the interests of women and children at heart.

"What would Jesus of Nazareth say if he were here?" she asked. Premier Oliver's amendment calling for the appointment of a select committee then passed by the same vote of 30 to 13. The members will be Mosser, Farris, Ian Mackenzie, Hinchcliffe, Duncan and Mrs. Smith.

Have you heard about the new system of selling Eggs by Grade?

"I WAS was down at the grocery store today, and Mr. Williams told me he is selling eggs according to grade now."

"What does that mean? According to size, or age, or what?"

"Well, it means both. The Government has established standard Canadian grades for eggs, and up-to-date stores sell eggs marked 'specials,' 'extras,' 'firsts' or 'seconds.' The largest, freshest, nicest eggs are the 'specials,' the next are the 'extras,' and so on down."

"I think that's a splendid idea. Why, when you buy a dozen eggs now, you'll know what you are really getting. Many a time I have bought so-called fresh eggs, and thrown out about half of them."

"So have I, Mrs. Smith. But now, Mr. Williams says, all his eggs are graded. They have a way of holding them up in front of an electric light, which makes the interior of the egg visible. You can tell exactly the quality of the egg and the grade to which it belongs."

"Oh, I think that will be a wonderful improvement! Think of getting eggs of the quality you pay for."

"Yes, you can buy 'specials' or 'extras' for boiling, and 'firsts' or 'seconds' for other cooking purposes. You won't have to pay as much for the cooking eggs, of course, and you'll be sure the boiling eggs are every one of good quality."

"Isn't that splendid! I'm going to ask our grocer for graded eggs after this. We'll use eggs more freely now."
